Housewives, Politicians Await Truman Talk on Meat

G.O.P. ALREADY SEEKS RADIO TIME TO REPLY

Speech Is Termed "Political" Although No Hint of Content Exists.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—Housewives scurrying for meat and politicians for votes cocked an ear to the White House for President Truman's decision tonight on what to do about getting steaks and roasts back.

Hours before the Chief Executive's all-network broadcast set for 10 p. m. eastern standard time, the Republican party termed the scheduled address "political" and demanded radio time to reply.

While there was no clear-cut indication what Mr. Truman plans to say in his 15-minute discussion of stabilization and the meat problem, the issue before him boiled down to this:

Whether to scrap meat controls outright, as many Republicans and some Democratic leaders have demanded, or keep them unchanged.

Compromise Hinted

Or, whether to compromise on some relaxation of controls involving perhaps higher ceilings, a bonus plan to induce marketing of livestock, and possibly importation of meat.

Mr. Truman is on record as firmly opposed to removal of OPA controls. He took this stand Sept. 26, but at a news conference last week he declined to comment when asked whether he had changed his mind.

One indication that he may have came from a high official who is familiar with the problem. He hinted to a reporter that top aides helping prepare Mr. Truman's speech met at the White House last night and that decontrol of meat is in the picture.

There has been speculation, moreover, that Mr. Truman might deal with wage controls, too, and possibly scrap that program.

On the other hand, among those playing an active part in drafting the President's statement are OPA Administrator Paul Porter and Reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Opposes Ceiling Removal

Porter has openly opposed removal of meat controls. Steelman, on the subject of controls generally, recently said that to "let prices go" would be the "worst possible" course.

The G.O.P. contention that Mr. Truman's address "will be political" came from Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee.

The G.O.P. chairman said that "the practice of allowing a President to take advantage of his official position to tie up the nation's facilities for political addresses whenever he chooses is a vicious practice which could be stopped."

Meanwhile, Rep. Jenkins of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional food study committee, called for "immediate and permanent elimination of all OPA controls and price regulations over the livestock and meat industry."

"Would Be Disaster"

The committee reported that at hearings it recently conducted in Sioux City, Kansas City and Tulsa, witnesses were "unanimous in declaring" that another temporary decontrol period "would be the most tragic and disastrous thing that could happen to meat production."

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson now has before him a formal petition from the beef industry asking that meat be decontrolled. The decision on this is expected to be disclosed by Mr. Truman.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee issued a statement saying that he favors decontrol of meat "at the earliest practicable moment." His office said Doughton had urged Mr. Truman "to take sound and immediate action to relieve the meat situation."

In Baltimore yesterday, Ben R. Davis Jr. told a Communist party rally that the meat crisis is the result of a plot by the big monopolies to throw the election to the Republicans. Davis urged Mr. Truman to "take over all the cattle and make them available to the people."

Davis, a Negro is a New York City councilman and a member of the national committee of the Communist party.

The American Livestock association also appealed to the President, saying he was "playing with fire" if he acted to lift the hoof and mouth disease embargo to permit importation of beef.

2 KILLED IN ACCIDENTS

By The Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., Oct. 14—Aloysious Gustwiler, 30, of Defiance, was killed and five other persons from this city were injured in a head-on automobile collision on route 24 yesterday. In another accident Marvin W. Morris, 17, of Hicksville, was killed when an automobile struck the bicycle he was riding on route 2 near Hicksville.

THIS IS NO MIRAGE—IT'S CUTLETS. Smiling Andrew Fahnes was a pretty popular fellow in Astoria, L. I., N. Y., the other day. The market he works for got in a good supply of meat and Andy was a welcome sight to purchasers as he carried his trays loaded with meat from the icebox to the counter. When this photo was taken, he was loaded down with tempting veal cutlets.

POWER UNION FACES 3 TESTS

3 Movements at Pittsburgh Challenge Strike Leadership.

By The Associated Press

Leadership of the 21-day Pittsburgh power strike today faced three tests of its authority:

1. A back-to-work vote by 2,700 AFL street car operators and bus drivers who have absented themselves for 18 days rather than cross the independent power union's picket lines;

2. An unsanctioned rank-and-file meeting tonight to consider the Duquesne Light Company's offer to submit the wage dispute to arbitration, and

3. A collective bargaining election tomorrow in which two AFL unions and one CIO group challenge the independent union's right to represent 1,700 of its 3,200 members.

Ordered by NLRB

The election was ordered by the national labor relations board on petition of the AFL United Mine Workers' District 50. Also contesting the bargaining rights are the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the CIO Utility Workers Union.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, who called the strike the city's worst disaster since the 1936 flood and said it was causing the greatest unemployment "since the dark depression days," urged the strikers to accept the arbitration offer. The union is demanding a 20 per cent wage increase against the company's offer of five per cent.

A labor dispute which kept 900 Ford Motor Company employes idle 12 days ended, but the nationwide maritime tieup, Washington's hotel walkout and Hollywood's film strike continued with scant hope of early settlement.

This was the situation:

Ford: Open hearth foundry workers agreed to go back on the job after the CIO United Auto Workers local authorized a strike vote "on elimination of health hazards" in the plant. Ford also called back 100,000 employes laid

AVC COMPLETES OHIO 2-DAY CONVENTION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Members of the Ohio division of the American Veterans' committee today had completed a two-day meeting here that took up subjects ranging from low-cost housing to the Ku Klux Klan.

Topping a long bill of particulars drawn last night was a plank urging more forthright action by the state in "securing additional desperately needed emergency housing for veterans."

This can be done, the veterans asserted, by drawing up a state law extending OPA rent controls after the federal bill expires, by strict enforcement of civilian production administration priorities, and by close limitation of commercial construction.

Making no mention of a bonus, the delegates also:

1. Recommended that the criminal provisions of the state civil rights law be "rigidly enforced and that the Ku Klux Klan and similar racist organizations be banned from this state."

2. Proposed that all foreign troops, including those of the United States, be withdrawn from China.

3. Congratulated Henry Wallace, former secretary of commerce, on his appointment as editor of the New Republic magazine.

"Patriotic" Citizens Willing to "Dispose" of Auto-Slain Deer

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14—Eugene H. Walker, Parma meat dealer, was driving near Brecksville yesterday, thinking of some way to get a supply of meat for his shop, when a doe dashed from a thicket into the side of his automobile and was killed.

Walker turned the doe over to Police Capt. William L. Sankbeil of Brecksville, who remarked an hour later.

"I was really amazed at the large number of good, public-spirited citizens we have . . at least a score of them offered to take the dead doe off my hands and save me the trouble of handing it over to the county game warden."

But Captain Sankbeil called the warden himself, and the doe is destined to end up on the tables of county orphanges.

All Walker has to show for the incident is a dent in his fender.

U. S. TO RECAPTURE RUSS LEND-LEASE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—The United States will reserve the right to recapture all weapons and munitions supplied Russia under lend-lease before writing the wartime account "closed," government officials said today.

These officials noted that such recapture provisions have been written into the lend-lease settlements concluded with seven other countries. And they add that they see no reason why American policy on this matter would be changed for the Soviets.

It is not clear when negotiations to settle the Russian account will get under way.

The great bulk of the $11,000,000,000 in lend-lease goods furnished the Russians falls into strictly war goods category.

The American officials who will sit in on the settlement discussions with the Soviets said they do not think the United States will seek payment for any war material destroyed or otherwise used up in the war against the Germans and Japanese.

The Russians will be asked, however, to pay at least part of the cost of civilian type articles which the Soviets can use in peace time.

Officials declined to estimate the amount of the final Soviet obligation. They pointed out, however, that Britain was billed for $650,000,000 and France for $420,000,000 when they settled their lend-lease accounts. But part of these sums went to pay for surplus property those countries wanted to buy outright.

Gas Fumes Victim Remains Unconscious

William Ernest Wittred remains unconscious in City hospital where he was taken Wednesday after he was found overcome by gas fumes in his trailer home at the Taber Adams farm east of Marion, it was reported from the hospital today. He has been given several blood transfusions, but has showed no signs of responding to any treatment.

Funeral services for his wife, Mrs. Geraldine S. Wittred, also a victim of the gas fumes, who died in the hospital Thursday without regaining consciousness, were to be conducted today at 2 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue, with Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, officiating. Burial was to be made in Marion cemetery.

RUSSIANS DISSATISFIED WITH CONCLUDED PARIS CONFERENCE

Marion Asks Additional Air Route Service

Brief Filed with CAB Takes Exceptions to Examiners' Report.

In a brief filed with the Civil Aeronautics board, the city of Marion will seek airline service between Chicago and Akron and between Louisville, Ky., and Cleveland.

The brief cites certain exceptions to Civil Aeronautics examiners' report in which the board which certified Marion as one of the cities to be served by the Trans-Ohio Airlines service of Bellefontaine, but denied services requested by the United Airlines, Inc. for a line between Chicago, Marion and Akron, and the Eastern Airlines, Inc. for service between Louisville and Cleveland with Marion as an intermediate point.

J. B. Bray, chairman of the aviation committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, said today his committee would compile immediately a brief showing that Marion needs the service which both United and Eastern Airlines would provide if these airlines were given a certificate to operate by the Civil Aeronautics board.

Granted One Certification

Marion was recently certified by the board as a stop on the Trans-Ohio Airlines service. The company proposes service between Detroit and Huntington with a stop at Columbus.

Mr. Bray declared that studies of the Chamber of Commerce show many travelers both to and from Marion must have the service proposed by Eastern Airlines, which asks to fly from Cleveland to Louisville through Columbus and Cincinnati and on the route proposed by United Airlines from Chicago to Akron.

Mr. Bray said his committee had been asked to compile the necessary information for the study so that it could be presented to the Civil Aeronautics board within the next 15 days.

In its brief to the report of Civil Aeronautics Examiners William M. Cusick and Richard A. Walsh, the city has taken exception and asks that requests of both United and Eastern Airlines be reconsidered by the board.

Cites "Community of Interest"

Exception to the board's ruling on the United Airlines request states that the examiner "failed to appraise or consider the community of interest" that Marion has with Chicago and Akron and the areas which they serve.

Exception to the examiners' report on Eastern Airlines proposal is taken on the grounds that "the examiners failed to appraise or consider that Marion needs northeast to southeast service and that Marion has a great community of interest with the other cities listed on the proposed route."

The brief, signed by Mayor Harry L. Dowler, asks that the city be heard on oral argument for both services.

COLUMBUS MAYOR NAMES CAR STRIKE COMMITTEE

Will Meet To Settle 13-Day-Old Walkout.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—A committee of five prominent citizens appointed by Mayor James A. Rhodes sought today to effect a settlement of the capital's 13-day-old transit strike.

The committee conferred yesterday with representatives of Local No. 208, Transport Workers Union (CIO) which is striking for higher pay and other benefits and also with officials of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Its spokesman, Attorney Paul R. Ghinger, said the committee felt there was no reason why the company and the union should not be able to reach a settlement soon.

The committee had a meeting arranged today with U. S. Conciliator H. J. Mortoney before conferring again with union leaders.

Meanwhile, taxicab drivers, working 12-hour shifts, reaped a rich harvest of fares. Pedestrians reported motorists were less inclined to give lifts than at the start of the strike, despite the mayor's appeal for motorists to share rides.

15TH ANNUAL SCOUT SERVICE HELD AT TOMB

Boy and Girl Troops Honor Memory of President and Mrs. Harding.

The fifteenth annual pilgrimage to the tomb of President Warren G. Harding was held Sunday afternoon with 1,000 Boy and Girl Scouts and more than 500 adult spectators attending.

The ceremony at the memorial followed a parade of the youth organizations from downtown which was witnessed by other hundreds along the way.

The parade originated at Central Junior High school at 2:20 p. m. and followed a route over West Center and South Main streets and Delaware avenue.

Seventy units of Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from all parts of Harding Area Council, which includes Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Wyandot counties, participated. Almost every community in the four counties was represented.

About 30 Girl Scout units, comprising approximately 300 members, participated. In addition to Marion, they came from Harpster, Mt. Gilead, Edison, Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky, Cardington and Prospect.

Band Heads Parade

The parade was headed by the Harding High school band, under direction of Homer Huffman. The Girl Scouts followed, led by James Wanner, an Eagle Scout of Troop 5. Then followed the Boy Scout and Cub Scout units, led by Bernard Amrine, grand marshall; R M. Miller, chief of staff, and Karl Bechtle, Scout field executive.

When the parade arrived at the memorial grounds, the groups massed with the Girl Scouts at front center, Boy Scouts behind them, and the Harding High school band to their right.

The United States colors and troop flags were massed on the steps and the speakers of the day spoke from a point just below the top step.

The ceremony at the shrine was opened by a fanfare by the Harding band. Trumpeters then sounded assembly and "To the Colors," as the marching units were massing. The national anthem was then played.

The pledge to the flag was led by Eagle Scout Frederick

ANNUAL CAMPOREE IS HELD BY SCOUTS

150 from 15 Troops in 2-Day Program.

About 150 Boy Scouts and Scout leaders from 15 troops in Marion and other communities in Harding Area Council attended the Council's annual camporee Saturday and Sunday at Camp John A. Owens.

The group arrived Saturday afternoon and set up camp. In the evening a community sing was held around the campfire and stunts were put on by each troop.

Sunday morning contests were held. The following were winners: water-boiling and fire-building, Troop 38 of Sycamore; knot-tying and relay race, Troop 29 of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church of Marion; undressing relay race, Troop 1 of the Elks lodge of Marion; sack race, Troop 30 of Cardington; blindfold compass course tie between Troop 7 of Evangelical and Reformed church of Marion and Troop 30 of Cardington; nature study, Troop 30 of Cardington.

Rev. W. E. Zimmerman of Marion conducted service Sunday morning for Protestant boys. The Catholic boys attended mass in Marion and then returned to camp.

TO RULE ON RAIL RATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—The supreme court today agreed to rule on validity of ICC orders increasing class railroad freight rates 10 per cent in the north and east and reducing them 10 per cent in the south and as far west as the Rockies.

King's Daughters To Direct New Community Hospital Plan

Marion Foundation Campaign Funds Will Help Provide Medical Care for Needy Persons.

This is one of a series of articles to be published in The Star to acquaint its readers with activities of the Marion Community Foundation, which will conduct its annual fund campaign Oct. 21-31. The campaign goal is $67,190. Your fair share is a day's pay.

* * *

A hospitalization and medical care fund has been added this year to the program of the Marion Community Foundation, and is to receive $2,000 of the $67,190 goal sought in its annual fund campaign Oct. 21 to 31.

The King's Daughters organization has been asked to administer this program, and has consented to carry it on in accordance with recommendations made by a committee which investigated the need for such a service.

The committee reported it found the need for a fund "to provide medical attention, nursing care and hospitalization for people who do not qualify for relief, but at the same time do not have sufficient funds or credit to see them through an emergency."

Plan of Operation

The committee voiced its recommendation that the "fund be created to take care of cases that come within these provisions; that the fund be a rotary fund administered on a loan basis; and that a recipient of the benefits of the fund be expected to repay the amount of money advanced or expended on his or her behalf when and if such person becomes financially rehabilitated." The committee also urged that "steps be taken to insure adequate home and visiting nursing service in the city of Marion, either tax supported or, if that is not possible, supported by the Foundation."

The committee, consisting of Howard F. Guthery, J. F. Lacey and George W. Wilson, made these recommendations after contacting the administrator of the county relief office, the Red Cross, an officer of the King's Daughters, the managing officers of a number of financial institutions and loan companies and the mayor and service director of the city of Marion.

It reported it found a definite need for the program it recommended in spite of the home nursing service provided by the county, the home service and assistance for veterans' families provided by the Red Cross, the relief work provided by the King's Daughters and the relief program of city, county and township officials.

Amount Estimated

The $2,000 figure included in this year's campaign for the hospitalization and medical care fund is an estimate of the amount required to operate the program on a minimum basis.

To finance this program and the work of seven other agencies in the coming 12 months, the Marion Community Foundation is asking Marion residents to contribute one day's pay. Marion county residents living outside the city are being asked to contribute on a more limited basis toward the support of four agencies which are not primarily centered in Marion city.

2 Ohio Firms Plan Sale of Aluminum Prefab Vets' Homes

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 14—Plans for construction of prefabricated aluminum homes for sale to war veterans at costs ranging from $5,000 to $6,500 were announced today by officials of the Goodyear Aircraft Corp. here and the Taylorcraft Aviation Corp. of Alliance.

Spokesmen for the huge Goodyear firm, which employed 40,000 workers in wartime production of parts for B-29 bombers and P-61 fighter planes, said government priorities had been received for materials to be used in construction of 20 "experimental" aluminum houses.

"The program already is under way, but it will be several weeks before the first home rolls off our assembly line for sale to an Akron war veteran," a Goodyear official said. "If veterans and the public react favorably to the program, we will equip our plants for increased manufacture of aluminum houses."

The Goodyear product, costing from $5,000 to $6,000 for the

EXHORTS NAZIS TO BE BRAVE

Streicher Calls on Other Condemned Germans To Be Strong.

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Oct. 14 — Julius Streicher, ranting Jewbaiter number one of the Nazi regime, today urged his condemned associates to be "brave and strong" in their last 48 hours of life.

Streicher, once gauleiter of this Nuernberg area, will hang, too, on Wednesday, but he is seemingly untouched by impending doom.

This morning the beady eyed little man, who openly advocated extermination of Jews, told a prison psychologist to be sure to impart his message to the other ten who will die with him:

"They must not be low but must be brave and strong."

Joachim Von Ribbentrop's mind reverted to his wartime experiences as Hitler's foreign minister as he bent under the strain of waiting for death.

Now gray and tired, the once dapper Ribbentrop in conversations with doctors and other prison officials recalled the time he read to British ambassador Neville Henderson the declaration that Germany was at war and had moved into Poland. He read it at lightning speed, a factor British complained about at the time and later brought out during the trial. Ribbentrop said he would do the same thing again but did not elaborate.

He also talks frequently now about Germany quitting the League of Nations and said he struggled with Hitler about that, but could not convince the Fuehrer it was wrong to quit the Geneva body.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel's spirits picked up over the weekend after he received two letters from his wife, who lives in the British zone.

None of the condemned have been told as yet exactly when they will hang.

Cordell Hull Termed Now Out of Danger

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, seriously ill for two weeks, is now considered to be "out of danger," Bethesda Naval hospital reported today.

Reflecting the gains made by the 75-year-old retired cabinet officer, the hospital said it is discontinuing its twice-a-day regular bulletins on his condition.

Hull entered the hospital on Sept. 12 and suffered a stroke on Sept. 23.

MOLOTOV HITS ITS WORK AS PARLEY ENDS

Calls Finished Product "Unsatisfactory" to Soviet Union.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 14—The peace conference completed drafting treaties for five defeated Axis nations tonight following Russian protests that its work was "unsatisfactory" and soon afterwards the four-power foreign ministers council met to begin final work on the recommendations.

V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, angrily charged that the United tates had dominated the 11-week session. His speech indicated a reopening of certain decisions when he sits with his American British and French colleagues in New York to decide finally on terms.

The foreign ministers council will meet in New York Nov. 4 to begin drafting the final treaties with five former enemy nations, a French source said tonight.

Molotov denounced the decisions on Trieste, free navigation of the Danube and the Bulgarian-Greek border.

The treaty draft for Finland was adopted after numerous objections of the United States, including demurrers to the $300,000,000 reparations, which the conference voted this down 11 to 5.

The United States, Canada, South Africa, New Zealand and the Netherlands voted against the reparations article and Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Norway abstained.

Approve All Clauses

The conference previously had swiftly approved all political and military clauses of the Finnish treaty, last of five to be drafted by the 21 nations in their 11 weeks of deliberations.

The United States abstained from voting on territorial clauses by which Finland would cede territory, including nickel mines and the Arctic port of Petsamo to Russia.

Vandenberg, ranking Republican member of the U. S. senate foreign relations committee, contended that Finland was unable to pay $300,000,000 in reparations, especially in view of stipulations that commodities shipped for preparations could be marked up only 10 to 15 per cent above 1938 prices.

He spoke a day after former President Herbert Hoover declared in a statement in New York that Finland could not pay the amount, which he said would be equivalent to a $200,000,000 bill for the United States.

Molotov remarked that only portions of the draft treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland pleased Russia and indicated that many of the issues would be thrown back into the foreign ministers council where decisions must be unanimous.

He accused the United States, Great Britain and France of "violating their agreements" and "retreating" from four-power accord in the adoption of "a number of anti-democratic measures" in connection with Trieste.

He spoke critically of guarantees written into Balkan treaties for free navigation of the Danube and complained that the conference had refused to fix Bulgarian boundaries as of January 1, 1941—an action that would have

Drive Goes Into Second Week in Marion.

Marion employers and representatives of the United States Employment Service office began today their second week of helping physically handicapped find jobs.

Although formal observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped week officially closed Saturday, USES representatives were out again today showing business and industrial employers records of physically handicapped applicants. The drive will continue at least through this week, USES officials said.

Extension of the drive is necessary, Fred B. Scherff, manager of the USES office said, because employers are cooperating to the extent that they not only will employ a physically limited worker with proper qualifications to fill a vacancy but are attempting to find jobs where physically handicapped workers can be used. In many cases transfers are necessary as well as following certain regulations such as posting of jobs within the shop for a definite time.

A NEW HEADACHE FOR MOTORISTS. One out of every five automobiles in the United States—approximately 5,400,000 cars—will be off the highways for lack of batteries by midwinter, according to industry estimates. Many new cars are coming off the assembly lines without batteries. The first cold snap will disable many of the batteries in use. Government controls, fixing the price of lead at $8.25 per 100 pounds and limiting lead allotments to battery manufacturers, was blamed for the situation. Motorists were warned to have their present batteries checked regularly.

A Columbus day program included a reading by Phillis Hoke the story of Columbus by Mary Joan Nolder and the crade of the American child by Jean Hazen and Emma Linn. In observance of Fire Prevention week, Jane Obermiller read the fire safety rules. A hayride was planned for a date to be announced later. Father Aidan Honored in Carey Farewell

Special to The Star

CAREY—A farewell party was given Monday evening in the Catholic hall, honoring Father Aidan, who has been in this parish the past four years. The speakers for the occasion were Father Elmer and Father Ambrose Finnegan.

Paul Krupp spoke and presented Father Aidan with a purse, in behalf of the parish. John Welsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Welsh, spoke in behalf of the server boys of whom Father Aidan had charge. Father Robert of the Seminary acted as Master of Ceremonies. Father Aidan responded, thanking the clergy and people of the parish.

Music during the evening was furnished by Herman Emerine at the piano and John Welsh on the violin.

Mrs. Clyde Jenkins sang a farewell song to Father Aidan, with Mrs. Cecil L. Laird at the piano. Lunch was served by the Christian Mothers Society of the parish.

Father Aidan's new assignment will be in the St. Paul's church, Pleasure Ridge, Ky., a suburb of Louisville.

Lennon's expert planners will design a kitchen that will make your workroom the envy of every one who sees it. They will help you create a lovely, cheerful room where preparing meals will be a pleasure.

Isn't it true that today we all do nearly as much entertaining in the kitchen as in the Living Room? It's more intimate. Less formal. You have more fun there.

It won't cost you one penny to have our Planning Department present a sketch showing your New Kitchen in all its gleaming beauty. And you'll be surprised to learn how little it will cost to convert a drab, uninteresting Kitchen into a room of charm and distinction.

You may buy just a piece at a time or the complete kitchen—but be sure yours is a Lennon Kitchen.

Have you seen the new model kitchen on our first floor? You're welcome.

Lack of Food, Fuel May Make Darien, Manchuria Death City

By HAROLD K. MILKS

Under Chinese Control

Dairen nominally is under control of the Chinese "business men's government" which is directed by Soviet military authorities Russian troops still are numerous, but appear to be a raw echelon rather than combat soldiers.

The city's population has grown from a pre-war 650,000 to approximately 1,000,000 Japanese, who poured into Dairen from Port Arthur and other Russian-controlled areas, number more than 250,000 Most Japanese are without work, food or fuel Shortages are spreading into other colonies

Inflation is fantastic Residents are selling their personal belongings at low prices to purchase costly foodstuffs and coal

The city remains Russian dominated, with operation of the main hotels, department stores, and port facilities in the hands of the Soviet. Since the first of the year, only six vessels other than Russian have called at Dairen.

No Naval Activity

There is no Russian naval activity except one patrol boat to enforce cholera quarantine measures. In contrast, there is considerable evidence of the presence of the military, including the occasional sight of artillery units

There was no evidence of direct material assistance to Chinese Communists passing through Dairen but the Soviets operated a "police training school" for them. Graduates of this school, trained in commando-like tactics, left Dairen in batches of 300 for Chinese Communist controlled Antung

Chinese government officials in Nanking said they have little hope of relieving Dairen's famine and fuel crisis unless internal peace is restored, permitting reopening of rail lines

The travelers said large numbers of Russian soldiers are being demobilized at Dairen to permit them to marry Russian women and to colonize the area. Most of them find jobs with Soviet controlled businesses.

The Russians are taking over a great amount of property from the Japanese, whom they simply eject. This property includes industries, business buildings and residences Industrially the city is dead, with only two or three of a large number of soybean mills operating.

The travelers had no information on the nearby Soviet naval base, Port Arthur Travel between it and Dairen is strictly limited to Soviet officials and the military

"Port Arthur might as well be on the other side of the world from us" they said

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Teachers of the Montgomery Township and New Bloomington schools were honored with a reception at a meeting of Montgomery grange Tuesday night. Each gave a short talk.

A program included two numbers by a quartet composed of Lowell Wood, Lowell Cates, Richard Kennedy and Henry Coon. Carol Harriman gave a reading, and a ventriloquism act was put on by Arthur Craven. Several other members presented a pantomime.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Cates, Mr and Mrs. Clifton Weinig and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Wood. It was announced that at the next meeting there will be a stuffed toy contest, and a vegetable soup supper will be served by the home economics committee.

A mask Halloween party will be held before the meeting, with judging of costumes ending at 8. Prizes will be for the best dressed couple, the most comic couple and the most unusual costumes. The program committee will be Mrs. Dorothy Coon, Miss Alma Roush and Mrs. George Wilson. The Halloween party for the Junior members will be in charge of the Junior matron, Mrs. Belle Schmidt. A contest between the eastern and western granges of the county for new members for Pomona grange was announced, with a county meeting at the Martel Grange hall Oct. 26 when the Delaware county grange will put on degree work.

SMALLMOUTH BASS PLACED IN RIVERS

2,450 Fish Released in Scioto and Olentangy.

One thousand smallmouth bass were placed in the Olentangy river at Claridon and 1,450 smallmouth bass in the Scioto river at LaRue Friday by the Ohio division of conservation and natural resources, according to an announcement today by O. H. Neimeyer, Marion county game protector.

The fish came from the Newton hatchery near Cincinnati, Mr. Neimeyer said. The game protector also announced a meeting of the Marion county conservation committee to be held at the court house Tuesday at 8 p. m. to recommend fish laws for 1947. All persons interested in fishing are invited to attend, Mr. Neimeyer said.

The duck season in Ohio opens Oct. 26 and closes Dec. 9. The game protector stated the daily limit is seven a day and not more than 14 in possession. It also is legal this year to kill one wood duck but a hunter may have no more than one in possession. The season is closed this year on Canada geese, although it is legal to kill two brant, Snow or Blue geese.

Mr. Neimeyer reported he had received many complaints from farmers that coon dogs were being trained on their premises. The game protector pointed out that although it is legal to train dogs at this time, owners are required to have permission from the landowner or the tenant. Otherwise they may be arrested for trespassing.

Certain Things We'd Like You to Know

If we could, we'd like to tell you all about our ideals of service, but we've found that it is not easy to tell you how we feel, and how we serve, without seeming to be boastful—and that we do not like.

Perhaps we can point out that we have been serving the people of Marion and vicinity for eighty years, and that for all that time we have been adding constantly to the circle of our friendships. That one single fact seems to suggest that Schaffner-Denzer service is a completely reliable service, modestly priced.

Flashback

MEMORY is short. It already is forgotten that before the original price control act expired last June 30, many of the same things already had happened which now are happening again in October. Scarcity was the rule.

Yet in October the charge is being made by advocates for price control that their troubles can be traced to changes made in the original law. This is simply not true. Their troubles can be traced to their mistaken belief in the possibility of holding down prices while letting everything else move upward.

It was evident last June to everybody but those who wanted renewal of price control automatically at any cost that with or without OPA prices were going to go up. It was evident to everybody but the last-ditch defenders of OPA that they had been going up before price control was abolished and moreover that the rise had been accelerated by the interference with production which price control had caused.

There was no magic in price control. It worked during the war because it was combined with rationing and supported by public opinion. It began to fail when the war was over because public opinion deserted it and demand no longer was regulated by rationing. It had failed by the end of last June. As a political concession, to appease those who were more interested in profit control than price control, a modified law was enacted. It was foredoomed to failure, even if it had been perfect, and it wasn't. The law is not at fault, however. What is at fault is the theory still being clung to stubbornly, that everything can go up, except prices.

Minority Representation

DECISION of the industry members of wage stabilization board to quit holding the sack for labor political decisions on wages as the White House made on the case of maritime workers may hasten the end of minority representation boards.

These public monstrosities purported to be able to break down every case into three points of view: management, labor union and public. In reaching decisions, consequently, management representatives usually voted one way, labor union representatives the opposite way and the public representatives held the balance of power. The net effect was to put the public representative in the middle and to cancel the management-union extremists. The public, which certainly includes management and union labor, along with everybody else, was badly-served by this compartment method of obtaining decisions. There were few instances of such board members voting in a way that cleared them of the standing charge of being prejudiced against the other fellow's point of view. The members appointed to represent the public often did not have a chance to do anything but settle on a predetermined compromise.

While such arrangements may have been necessary and did work in a fashion during the war, they have no place in peacetime. If WSB disintegrates, as it seems likely to do in the absence of any surviving friends, the idea of minority representation on public boards should disintegrate with it.

Nothing To Hide

THE latest statement by Bernard M. Baruch on a proper policy for atomic energy could be reduced to one short sentence: the United States has nothing to hide.

This country has developed a process and the equipment for segregating and releasing the energy of certain fissionable materials. It has learned how to apply its knowledge for the manufacture of atomic bombs.

Sobered by the implications of the weapon it possesses, the United States is willing to share with other nations the responsibility for its control, if they will make an agreement for full cooperation on all atomic information. Otherwise, it must deal with the whole subject in a manner consistent with its own national security; i.e., it must do everything it can to maintain its existing position.

In either event, it has nothing to hide. We have atomic bombs and will reserve the right to make more. If that alarms other nations, they can allay their fears by pledging cooperation on atomic policy. The United States will let their representatives inspect what it is doing, but will have the right to inspect what they are doing. There must be no secrecy if the idea is to do away with secrecy. Unless the further idea is to prevent atomic war, the United States is not going to be silly enough to try to prevent it alone. If Henry Wallace et all want to trust other governments more than they trust their own, that is their business. In short, Mr. Baruch has left nothing unsaid that's worth saying at this time.

A Canadian psychiatrist calls us all more or less crazy, and Walter Lippmann thinks only common sense can save mankind. Any further questions?

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Inflation Creeps in Through Devious Ways.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—I to rest under my arm a copy of "No Inflation Coming" a sort of "No Inflation Coming" a sort of "No Inflation" says you must have read it in the book to take advantage of coming bargains in butcher meats and went into the candy shop.

The sign said "85 cents a pound," and I thanked God for the OPA.

I said "Give me a pound of chocolates." The young lady responded "We cannot sell you a pound of chocolates." Puzzled amid the stacks of chocolates lying all around the store, I asked "Who stops you?" She said "We only sell one pound box which I will show you," and she did. It contained about four chocolates and a dozen or more pieces of ten cent candy caramels, an inferior grade I had not seen since I bought them as a child two for a penny. I took another glance at the sign, "85 cents a pound," and it suddenly dawned upon me that the OPA was being used as an excuse for a chance bit of moneymaking.

Here was a store loaded with chocolates, which would not sell them at any price, but offering you a box packed preponderantly with the cheapest grades of caramels. It had deteriorated the quality of its advertised product by at least four times, so while the price remained the same on the ceiling list, it had actually quadrupled the price—and officially nothing would not show in government statistics.

I do not like caramels, so I said "No thank you," and left without candy.

Washing Machine Man

Tucking my copy of "No Inflation Coming" more firmly in my armpit, and still resolutely determined to believe everything I read, I went to see the washing machine man. My washing machine cost about $125 many years ago, but in the past year or so it has cost me more than $125 in repairs. The customary procedure has been that every few days the washwoman calls the shop of Skinnem and Laughem and says it ain't working again, whereupon Skinnem and Laughem sends out to get the machine, charging me $7 to make the trip. Although it could be done in a taxicab with a fast motor for much less. In a week or so Skinnem and Laughem sends the machine back, demanding and getting payment before delivery or before letting you try the machine to ascertain if it has been fixed. Generally the dust or dirt is not even wiped from the machine, and when tried next day, it fails to work, and the washwoman calls Skinnem and Laughem again and says it ain't working again. That costs $7 more for them to come and get it and the experience is repeated without variation.

The bills of Skinnem and Laughem are a work of art. They say "1 assumption $8." If I want to know what an assumption is, I must ask in a hurry because the bill must be paid in advance, but when I ask, the explanation is that it is a very expensive thing which cannot be seen, and I wouldn't understand anyway. The last bill was $17.89 for fixing something which could not be seen, and a few weeks earlier it was $12.50. But I began to be interested in assumptions deeply when a bill (pay before delivery and without testing) was submitted for $49. Between illegible items on the bill was one item plainly written: "2 rollers $7.50." Now I may not know what an invisible assumption is, but I know a roller on a washing machine when I see one, and I could see this machine bore the same old chewed rollers. Gleefully figuring I had cornered my quarry at long last, as I say, I took my book, "No Inflation Coming," and went in to tell him the machine blew out four fuses the day after its last repair and to ask where were the rollers.

Had An Answer

To my surprise, Mr. Skinnem was not at all dismayed. He said he believed the washwoman had taken the new rollers from the machine because he saw them on the machine when it left the shop. I pointed out that my washwoman would not know how to replace a roller, but this logic had no effect upon him. He eyed me suspiciously. He was just about to imply that perhaps I had taken off the new rollers myself and sold them, when I happened to think that the washwoman could not have had the old rollers, and neither could I, because these could only be in his shop, if he had replaced them. This really stopped him. He was cornered. He promised to give me new rollers, if I paid in advance and he would not deliver the machine unless paid. I said:

"Mr. Skinnem, you are running a racket worse than Capone. You collect in advance because you know you do not do the work for which you charge the customers, and if they complain and send the machine back to you, you merely charge them more money for not doing anything. Perhaps you can get away with this week after week without end but the next time you charge me for something you have not done you will be confronted with a warrant for obtaining money under false pretenses. Good day—sir."

Going out, I threw my copy of "No Inflation Coming" as far down the gutter as I could. "No inflation coming" It is here. So I set out for the butcher shop to get some meat.

Give a Man a Horse He Can Chew

As beef and pork shortages become increasingly acute, horse meat has been placed on sale for human consumption in several American cities.

With the last roundup a fait accompli, cowhands are saddling Old Paint for the last time ... and riding down to the local abattoir.

And many an unwary customer is smacking his lips over a new delicacy filet de filly.

This is something new in this country. Grandpa hollered "Get a horse." But he didn't mean for dinner. In his day, worn out nags ended up in glue, not stew.

Horse meat isn't so flavorful as beef, say those who have tried it. But this, of course, will be noticed only by those with exceptionally long memories.

And so the day may be at hand when even unsuperstitious butchers will have a horseshoe hanging above the door.

Two horse-burgers, all the way ... and no more of this talk, please, about the dog being man's best friend.

Swedish View of Russia

By EDDIE GILMORE

STOCKHOLM — An American visitor to Sweden who knows anything about Russia is something like the arrival in almost any American city of a man who knows where you might get a new automobile—you are at once a very interesting person.

The Swedes, of course, are not so much interested in automobiles at this particular moment in history as they are in their great neighbor who occupies one-sixth of the earth's surface. And the question is not that of buying Russian, but whether Russia is about to buy Sweden, or at least, a large chunk of her economy.

The Swedish people are concerned over the proposed $300,000,000 credit to the USSR. Most all of them agree that it will be negotiated successfully and approved by the government. But a great many of them are not sure that they like the idea of it.

However, far fewer people here seem to expect a new war than in the United States. I have found no one who believes the world is going to have another war soon. The Swedes are somewhat curious as to how this impression could have gained a foothold in America.

Their capital is more crowded than Washington, New York or London. I know a visiting ambassador who has been occupying a room without bath with one of his attaches. I know a wealthy Canadian who is bedded down in a single room with his wife and two grown children. I know others who are sleeping in lobbies.

Stockholm has escaped the after-war moral and spending jitterbugging of the United States and England. You don't see people tossing money about as you do in New York.

They Look to U. S.

Friendship for the United States is most apparent. The people dance to American tunes and I've found one coffee house here whose sole attraction seems to be the hour-in and hour-out constant playing of the latest American jazz and swing tunes.

The Wallace-Truman-Byrnes affair has created lively, if amused interest. The Swedes look upon it as one of the choicest bits of governmental comedy since some of the antics of former King Zog of Albania.

Not only do the recent elections indicate a swing to the left in Sweden, but individuals report the same feeling.

LeRoy W. Miller of 340 Avondale avenue was elected commander of Marion Veterans of Foreign Wars at a meeting held in the Eagles' hall. He succeeded John V. Ruth as head of the post.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Oct. 14, 1926.

Seven bandits armed with automatics and machine guns shot and killed a U. S. mail truck driver at Elizabeth, N. J., wounded his helper, ran down and injured a motorcycle policeman acting as an escort of the mail truck, and then escaped with a number of mail bags believed to contain approximately $160,000.

Mayor John S. H. Patton of Steubenville was removed from office by an order from the Jefferson county court of common pleas on charges of dereliction of duty. He had been suspended two months previously when a petition signed by 425 persons was filed, alleging he had failed to enforce the anti-vice laws.

Miss Isabelle Bower of Waldo and Alfred Donithen of Marion were united in marriage at the Trinity Lutheran church in Columbus by Rev. Jesse Baumgardner, former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church at Waldo.

Turkey Is The Test

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 — The brisk American note to Moscow on the Dardanelles question has an important and revealing background. When the Soviets sent their second set of demands to Ankara, the Turkish government immediately communicated them to the American and British ambassadors. The Turks indicated that they proposed to return a firm reply. For the rest, they tossed the policy decision on how to deal with the Soviet demands into the lap of the Anglo-American partnership.

The decision could be placed nowhere else, since the Turks, without the backing of the Anglo-American partnership, would either have to knuckle under to the Soviets or be conquered. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin discussed the question carefully at Paris. The British were already allies of Turkey, and therefore just as much indorsers of any reply the Turks might make as a man who goes on his friend's note to a bank. The pressing necessity was to make clear, both to the Soviets and the Turks, that the Turks were also backed by the United States. This was all the more urgent, since we had been pointedly ignored in the distribution of copies of the new Soviet demands.

The Partnership

When the Soviet demands were first disclosed, the British as well as the Americans sent a strong message to Moscow. In this new case, Byrnes and Bevin decided that it would be stronger and more effective for the British to hold silent, as though their support for the Turks was a matter of course. The two foreign secretaries further agreed that the Americans having been ostentatiously ignored by the Soviets, should therefore reaffirm their previous position. In consequence the message which has now been published was prepared and sent forward.

What does all this mean? Its most obvious implication is that the Americans and British have already formed a working partnership in the field of world affairs. To be sure, President Truman's sudden intervention in the Palestine question would appear to deny the existence of such a partnership. But it is now an open secret that Ed Flynn and other New York leaders passed word to the President through Postmaster General Robert Hannegan, that they could not conceivably hope to beat the terrifying Governor Thomas E. Dewey without some such gesture. Truman then sent the message against the advice of Secretary of State Byrnes. Byrnes is as good a Zionist as the President but would prefer American interventions in the question to take a form which might possibly do good to the cruelly afflicted European Jews, rather than to the Democratic party in New York.

But this kind of political gesture (which should have irritated to rightly aroused Jewish people of New York as an insult to their intelligence) does not alter the underlying fact of the partnership between this country and the British. Byrnes' action, in assuming the lead in the Turkish question, tacitly acknowledged the existence of the partnership. It claimed further the position of senior partner for this country.

Tough Turks

The Turks have already shown the kind of fighting spirit which was generally expected. The first drafts of the Turkish reply to the Soviets (which may or may not have been completed and dispatched when these words are printed) were almost excessively tough. They firmly defended Turkey at great length against all Soviet accusations. They also absolutely refused to discuss either the Soviet request to confine discussion of the Straits to the Black Sea powers, or the Soviet demand for bases in the Straits. And they closed with the statement that talk about these two points had better cease, since it was useless. Both the British and American governments were somewhat disturbed by the Turkish intransigence, and urged that it was always a mistake simply to refuse to discuss any topic, since it gave an undesirable impression of pig-headedness. Thus the Anglo-American partners, far from encouraging Turkish resistance, have been pleading with the Turks to speak more softly.

On the other hand, the Soviets are perfectly correct in the larger sense, that there would be no Turkish resistance if the Turks were not confident of backing from the United States and Britain in the final showdown. It is also true, in this sense, that if the Anglo-Americans suddenly folded up, there would be no resistance from China, Iran, Iraq, Afghanistan, Austria, Western Germany or any of the other areas the Soviets are penetrating in various ways.

More Dollars

To keep pace with mounting expenses, many cities during the past two months have adopted new measures to boost revenues, according to International City Managers' Association.

New service charges are the major source. Dallas, Tex., expects to raise more than $1,500,000 annually by putting its garbage collection service on a fee basis.

Berkeley, Glendale, San Fernando, and Santa Monica, Calif., have just put into effect city sales taxes of one-half of one per cent expected to raise more than a quarter of a million dollars annually in each city. The new Los Angeles one per cent sales tax, effective last May, produced more than $1,000,000 its first 60 days of operation.

Miami, Fla., on July 24 adopted a two-cent per pack cigaret tax expected to yield more than half a million a year. The city simultaneously placed a 10 per cent retail tax on other forms of tobacco. Wheeling, W. Va., adopted a one cent per pack tobacco tax recently.

Radio Train Interviews

A DAILY radio feature interviews travelers and sent two interesting ones, on the Twentieth Century, a famous railroad train, to propose an extension to other trains; 7 o'clock at the 7:05 from Conk Hollow to B... Hills.

Interviewer—This is the Conk Hollow ... folks. Every afternoon at this time we board ... railroad and interview the passengers. ... train today's Artemus Wiggins. What ... last name, Mr. Wiggins?

Passenger—Wiggins.

Interviewer—Well, well, that's very interesting. How long have you been Wiggins, Mr. Wiggins?

Passenger—Oh, ever since I can remember. My folks were Wigginses.

Interviewer (enthusiastically)—It that? That's exciting, yes indeed. And when do you first go into the oil business?

Passenger—I'm not in the oil business. My spots have always been on this suit.

Interviewer—Well, thank you, Mr. Wiggins, ... a very interesting moment in this day to ... and when you shave next week try our free ... of Mallett's Ruberoo. And now we have ... another extraordinary person on this train, ... George Squinsey. What is your name, Mr. Squiffey?

Passenger—Squiffell.

Interviewer—A Squiffell on this train! Well, ... what do you know about that? Tell the radio audience what your business is, Carl.

Passenger—I just run around in day coaches.

* * *

Interviewer (beside himself)—Give him a hand, folks. Here is a man who runs around in day coaches. (Applause). Why do you do it, Mr. Squ...?

Passenger—Oh, somebody's always apt to come through with a microphone.

Interviewer—And you like to talk into ... prizes?

Passenger—I've often thought I would ... as a career.

Interviewer—You think this would be a best world, Mr. Squiffsey, if more people talked ... makes on commuter trains?

Passenger—I heard Crosby and Hope state that way.

* * *

Interviewer—Thanks, Mr. Squinkey, for ... very helpful little chat, which I am sure ... great radio audience found most unique. Have ... a cake of soap? We have another interesting passenger here. He is lying here across two seats with his shoes off. What's your name?

Passenger—What's it to you?

Interviewer—Look! (He holds up the mike.)

Passenger—That's different! I am N. B. Fun—and get those initials N. B.!

Interviewer—Well! Well! Well! Well! Fancy meeting you in the third seat from the iceway tank! How long have you been doing this?

Passenger—Doing what?

Interviewer—Doing whatever you do for a living.

Passenger—I forget, and, anyhow, somebody threw out all my calendars. But I met all challengers. Yes, sir, I fought 'em all.

Interviewer—That's funny! I didn't know you were a fighter. I thought you were a cornoo...

Passenger—No, I started out in that line but found there were too many borers and ... enough corn. I wrote Dorothy Dix and she advised me to become a fighter. So the next morning I became the greatest battler the world has ever seen. Those initials N. B. explain everything.

Interviewer—What does N. B. stand for?

Passenger—Napoleon Bonaparte!

CAN YOU REMEMBER?

Away back when
A new car couldn't raise an eyebrow?
A friendly butcher overfed your dog?
TWO cakes of soap floated in your bath?
A waiter smiled BEFORE he pocketed a tip?
Storekeeper had enough sweet soda to float a battleship.

Chinese Like U. S. Currency Fresh and Crisp

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Writer

SHANGHAI, Oct. 14—American greenbacks, however highly prized anywhere on the globe, are deflated by Shanghai money-changers unless they're crisp and c-r-r-r-isp as toasted breakfast cereal.

Even so, if it isn't a 10 or 20-dollar bill the black market financial wizard fixes you with a pained eye and calmly discounts the currency like a used toothbrush. And, at the going exchange rate of 4,100 Chinese dollars to one U. S., he hands you back that look like they had been used as innersoles for Chinese refugees.

This is a city where a U. S. dollar is worth anything from 90 to 4,100 cents, but never a dollar. Shanghai's financial foundations rest like desert sands, with the value of American money (here, a substitute gold) subject to more changes than an old maid's mind.

An unidentified but expert engraver somewhere in the city began turning out a remarkable counterfeit of a U. S. $50 bill, which circulated overnight in a substantial imitation of the value of the original on the Shanghai black market. Some merchants, even after a minute scrutiny, flatly refuse to accept a fifty.

Deflates With Use

In a genuine U. S. $10 note appears as if it has changed hands as few as a half-dozen times, it's worth only $9.60 (or $9,360 Chinese dollars). If it has seen more wear, although undamaged and relatively clean, it's worth only $9.30. Ten one-dollar bills, according to Shanghai's self-made banking rules, bring only slightly more than the equivalent of 90 cents apiece in tattered Chinese "lettuce."

A U. S. $100 note, regardless of its newness, is worth U. S. $92.

No bank has dealt in foreign exchange since the end of the war, and most money-changers on the black market view with dark suspicion any currency other than American.

The Philippine Peso, while worth 50 cents American anywhere in the islands, is treated like an outcast in Shanghai. Those Chinese who can be persuaded to accept the peso at all discount it drastically.

A businessman, who concluded a U. S. $10,000 deal recently, delivered the money in $10 and $20 bills, as requested. Nearly $4,000 was returned as unacceptable. The notes were neither old nor damaged—just not crisp enough.

Interest Rates Puzzling

Interest rates are equally puzzling. Interest on inflated Chinese dollars is more than double that on U. S. dollars. A loan of U. S. $5,000 on good security brings U. S. $400 a month interest. A millionaire, in Chinese currency (less than $250 U. S.) can get C$180,000 a month interest on his C$1,000,000. If he let the loan ride for a year, he would have C$3,000,000 at the current interst rates. The catch is that by then his C$3,000,000 might be worth no more than his C$1,000,000 is now.

The flustered newcomer may want to try his luck in some other Chinese city. On the books, a two-day steamship trip on a Chinese vessel costs C$18,000 (U. S. $4.40), but bookings are closed. However, if he is willing to pay U. S. $25 on the black market, he finds there actually is plenty of space.

Some visitors are surprised to learn that it costs considerably more to unload and deliver a cargo locally than to ship it across the Pacific. It's part of the "squeeze" which has been applied to virtually everything. Apartment rental could be considered fairly reasonable, if it were not for the U. S. $5,000 to U. S. $10,000 or more, demanded as "key money"—to obtain entry into the dwelling.

No one can guarantee that the renter will get his "key money" returned upon leaving the place. As one veteran Shanghai businessman put it, no one here can guarantee anything.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Ulcers

Ulcer of the stomach or the first part of the intestine is a condition which seems to run in certain families. The individuals in these families are nervous, thin and highstrung. Ulcer causes attacks of pain in the abdomen which come on from one to three hours after meals and are relieved, usually, by the taking of food or some alkaline substance such as baking soda.

The exact cause of stomach ulcer is not known but many things which help to produce it are recognized. According to Dr. Asher Winkelstein of New York, if persons in those families in which ulcers occur were made aware of these things, much could be done to prevent ulcers.

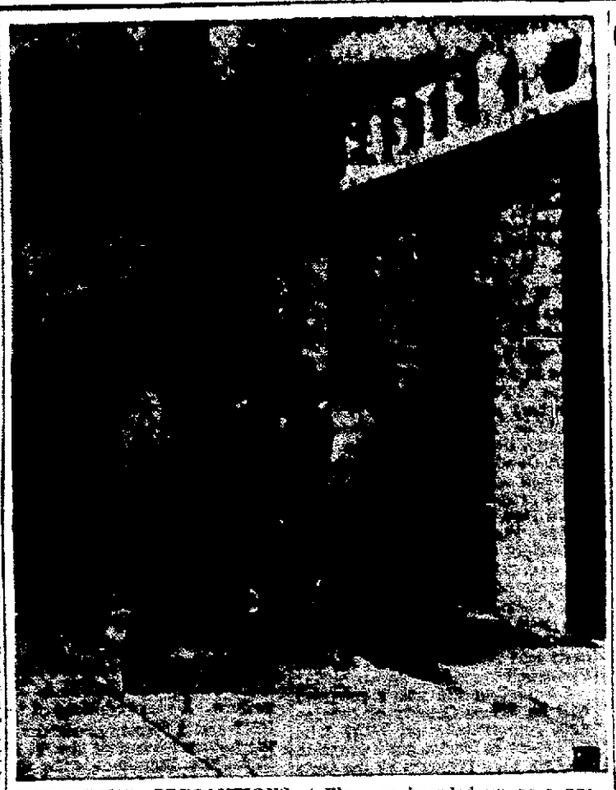
He thinks that the eating habits of the American people in general need improvement. The excessive use of stimulating beverages, spices, charged water, fried foods and large amounts of fat, all may lead to increased secretion of acid by the stomach and spasm of the stomach muscle which, in turn, tend to cause stomach inflammation. Alcoholic beverages and tobacco also may be factors in producing ulcers or in causing their recurrence.

According to Dr. Winkelstein, the things which cause recurrence of ulcers in the order of their importance are: dietetic errors, alcohol and tobacco, emotional upsets, physical and mental fatigue, infections, and disorders elsewhere in the body. It is also known that ulcers tend to occur most often during the spring and fall.

The importance of emotional causes, such as a sudden death or economic strain, is well recognized. For this reason, after such an emotional upset, it has been advised that strict ulcer treatment be started whether or not the symptoms of ulcer have occurred. This includes giving feedings every hour and alkaline substances at night. It is also advised that the normal tension of the patient's life be relieved by frequent week-end trips and vacations every few months.

The diagnosis of ulcer is not difficult in most cases. The symptoms are usually different from those which occur in other disorders affectiig the abdomen. Furthermore, the diagnosis may be checked with the X-ray and the use of a gastroscope an instrument made up of a tube with lights, which makes it possible for the physician to look directly into the stomach.

Once the diagnosis of ulcer is made, treatment should be started immediately to revieve it and, after the ulcer has healed, all of the preventive measures outlined above should be employed.



HURRICANE PRECAUTIONS. Plate glass windows along exposed Miami Bay front, Miami, Fla., are boarded up as a precaution against possible hurricane winds in Miami.

Powers-Tuscan Vows Heard in Galion Rite

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 14—Miss Catherine Ann Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Powers, became the bride of Joseph B. Tuscan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Tuscan, all of Galion, Saturday at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

The single ring ceremony, which was read by Rev. Father F. X. Hermiller, was preceded by a program of wedding music provided by Mrs. Eugene Drexel, vocalist, and Miss Marguerite Dorian, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her two sisters, Jeanne Powers, maid of honor, and Carole Powers, junior bridesmaid.

Armando Tuscan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Francis Haines, cousin of the bride, Michael Pangallo, cousin of the bridegroom, and Joseph Flannery, a friend of the bridegroom.

Both Mr. Tuscan and his bride were graduated from Galion High school in 1939. She attended Bliss Business college in Columbus, and recently resigned her position in the purchasing and cost department at the Central Ohio Steel Products Co. here.

Mr. Tuscan was in service four years, three of which were spent in the South Pacific area. He is manager of the Galion Vet Cubs semi-pro football team.

Government Agency Reports on Animal Census of Last Year.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—This won't be much solace to Ohioans who like good steaks and pork chops, but it should serve to revive pleasant memories.

Just a short while ago, the state had more meat "on the hoof" then ever before, according to a government report which doesn't deal with scarcities.

There also was an abundance of milk, chickens and eggs on the basis of the report, prepared by the census bureau after making the count in 1945.

Altogether, more than 6,000,000 meat animals were on Ohio farms in '45. Hogs and pigs numbered 2,429,000; cattle and calves 2,169,000; sheep an dlambs 1,454,000.

The count of cattle and calves was the largest ever recorded by a federal farm census, the bureau said. An idea of the supply is shown by a comparison with 1940 when there were 1,772,000 cattle and calves, 1,916,000 hogs and pigs, and 1,757,000 sheep and lambs.

Milk production in Ohio exceeded 500,000,000 gallons in 1944, an increase of 13 per cent over 1939 production, the report said. It added:

"Whole milk sales increased from 303,000,000 gallons in 1939 to nearly 423,000,000 gallons in 1944. Approximately 144,000,000 dozen chicken eggs were produced on farms in the state in 1944, an increase of 20,000 dozen over the production in 1939."

Crops were harvested from 11,000,000 Ohio acres in 1945, an increase of 11 per cent over the harvested acreage in 1939. More than 138,000,000 bushels of corn were harvested from 3,400,000 acres in 1944.

Farmers harvested wheat from 1,900,000 acres and obtained 45,000,000 bushels, the largest production of wheat recorded by a farm census since 1919. The acreage of soybeans increased from 488,000 acres in 1939 to 1,200,000 acres in 1944.

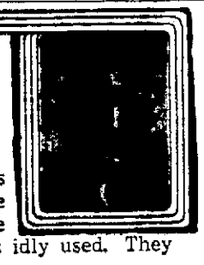
"Distinctive — Yet Inexpensive"



For several years those words have appeared as a part of the signature at the foot of these messages. They are not words idly used. They mean exactly what they say.

When the Hughes Funeral Home was first opened, every effort and many dollars invested in modern equipment went toward creating a distinctive service. That policy has continued—as evidenced by our Everett organ and real air conditioning for year round use.

By personal service and careful management, costs have been kept down—far lower than in the average funeral home. That has enabled us to provide less expensive funerals.

These are facts that can be readily substantiated by anyone who cares to investigate.

THE First Presbyterian church was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Miss Margaret Watrous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Watrous of 1155 East Center street, and Milton S. Pohler of Kansas City, Mo., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pohler of 239 South Seiber avenue. The single ring ceremony at 4:30 o'clock was read by the pastor, Rev. Howard L. Olewiler. The custom of open church was observed for the service.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. Harry T. Wilson gave a program of organ music including prelude and adagio to the Third sonata by Guilmant "Toccata in D Minor, Nevin "Wedding Bells" by Truette, "Music Box" by Liadov, "The Golden Wedding," Gabriel-Marie, "Prelude to the Third Act of Lohengrin," Wagner, "Pomp and Circumstance" Elgar, and "Recessional" and "Processional" Lutz. During the ceremony she played themes from the program and for the processional and recessional the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

White and green was the color scheme for the decorations. Palms formed the background for the lighted tapers held in two seven-branched candelabra and the arrangement of tall baskets filled with gladioli.

Miss Watrous, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of white bengaline and net. The bodice, trimmed with tiny self-covered buttons in front and bracelet-length sleeves and extending from the waistline into the full net skirt were applique designs matching the top of the dress. Her fingertip veil was held with a half-crown of seed pearls and to complete her costume she wore lace mitts. Her bridal bouquet held white roses and for the traditional something old she chose a diamond and pearl pendant which had been given to her mother by Mr. Watrous on the occasion of their wedding.

Miss Esther Gutnery, who was the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of gold net styled on lines similar to the bride's. Accenting the bodice was an appliqued design of matching bengaline and the skirt was gathered very full. Her headdress was a half crown of gold lace and she wore lace mitts to match the color of her gown. Her bouquet held lavender baby mums.

William H. Pohler Jr. served as best man for his brother, and ushers were Leonard Young, Marion Lewis, Morris Cornell, William Selanders, Edward Sawyer, William Foster and Marvin R. Tuttle. William Leonard Young, nephew of the bridegroom, lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Watrous chose a two-piece wool crepe costume cut in an American Beauty shade with bead trim with which she wore a black feather trimmed hat and her accessories were in black. The bridegroom's mother was costumed in a dark blue crepe dress with a hat in a royal blue shade and black accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

The reception was held at Hotel Harding where the decorations were a repeat of the green. The [illegible] were hung with garlands of greenery and clusters of white gladioli formed [illegible] the table centering the arrangement of mums and [illegible] tapers encircled by [illegible] ivy. Assisting were Mrs. Leonard Young, Mrs. Nancy Morgan, Mrs. Harry A. Moriarty, Miss Ruth Ellsworth and the dean of the bride, and Mrs. Glenn Heerland, Mrs. Robert Cripps, Miss Ruth Turner, Mrs. Betty Brown, Mrs. Russell Jack, Mrs. Robert Wiley, Miss Dora Hardy, Mrs. Mark McKittrick, Mrs. Robert Klott, Miss Louise Gutnery, Mrs. Frank Edmondson and Mrs. D. J. Shelton.

When the couple left on their wedding trip which will take them to Kansas City, Mo., the bride chose for traveling a dark brown suit with gold buttons, with which she combined a hat in a harmonizing shade and brown accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of bronze pompons.

The bride has been on the faculty of the Marion public schools. Mr. Pohler is associated with the Marion Power Shovel Co. as district manager with headquarters in Kansas City where they will make their home at 637 East 96th street.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. D. W. Crane and Mrs. Nancy Morgan of Lakewood, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McKittrick and Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Purdy of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jack of Rochester, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Heerland of Canton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelley of Columbus, Dr. and Mrs. James P. Collins of Springfield, Miss Dora Hardy of Shaker Heights, Mrs. Frank Ellsworth and Miss Ruth Ellsworth of Kalamazoo, Mich., Miss Maxine Baker of Toledo, Mr. David Hough and Clifford Hoag of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Evans of Sandusky, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Roby of Mansfield, Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Hardy of Medina, Mrs. A. B. Glaspie of Oxford, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hagerman of Leonard, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Traphagen of Grand Rapids, Mich., Miss Elizabeth Pohler, Miss Laura Pohler of Tulsa, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Milton Slawser of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klepper of Meadville, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Rinehart of Upper Sandusky.

Mr. and Mrs. Watrous were hosts at a rehearsal party at Hotel Harding Friday evening.

Initiation of two new members was conducted when D'Accord Coolette Club No. 269 met Thursday in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall. They were Mrs. Marguerite Deininger and Mrs. Marjorie McClure. Mrs. Delsia Baker, chief gray back, appointed Mrs. Margaret Morrison as welfare chairman. An announcement was made of a social affair to be held at the next meeting, Oct. 24. Committees were named to be in charge.

Mrs. John Koenig was hostess to the Les Meres Study club Tuesday evening at her home on Olney avenue. Guest speaker was Miss Irabel Barry of Cleveland. She spoke on the topic "Homes for Better Living," and illustrated her talk with colored slides. Mrs. P. C. Kyle, president, was in charge of the meeting. Contest honors were won by Mrs. Louis Haycook, Mrs. Carl Deibel, Mrs. Frank Sneene, Mrs. Walter Drake, Mrs. Ernest Furst, and Mrs. Marion Seckel. Mrs. John Williams was a guest. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. C. M. Cratty, and Mrs. Edwin Dilsaver.

Members of Iota Alpha chapter, Pi Omicron National sorority were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beatty of 202 South Vine street for their program meeting Tuesday evening. Mrs. Beatty presented the program on "Paintings and Antiques," exhibiting and discussing paintings and painters from their fine collection by French and Italian artists and some of their rare period furniture. Following a business session the hosts entertained the group informally and told many interesting features of their home which is one of the historic landmarks in the city. Mrs. Boyd Titsworth of Columbus and Mrs. Frank Little were guests.

At a meeting of the San Souci club Wednesday, Oct. 9, with Mrs. Francis Fairchild of east of Marion, plans were made to hold a bazaar in the near future. A report on a recent rummage sale was given by Mrs. Truman Owen, treasurer. Included in a program was a reading by Mrs. Harold Austin, and a piano solo by Mrs. L. W. Mack. Guests were Mrs. John Fairchild, Miss Elinor Mitchell, Gary and Rodney Fairchild, Nancy Creasap, and Shirley and Marie Fett. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. F. M. Fairchild, Mrs. John Fairchild, and Miss Mitchell.

The Marion Art club met Friday evening with Mrs. John W. Dowler on Fairhaven avenue. The program was in charge of Mrs. C. J. Altmaier. She told the life history of the painters, Fregonard, Gorges, and Ronault, and illustrated her talk with slides. These showed the famous paintings by these men. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. L. D. Hamilton. The next meeting will be Oct. 24 with Mrs. George Planck as hostess.

University Women Open Season At Dinner Tonight

MRS. BERTRAM KLEINMAIER of Columbus will be a guest speaker when the Marion Association of University Women opens their season Tuesday evening. Mrs. Kleinmaier will talk on flower arrangements and the program hour will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting will be at Hotel Harding.

As in former years this season's series of programs is open to non-members and patron tickets are available from the members or through the patron chairman, Mrs. John Dowler. Tickets, which sell at $1.50 admit the holder to any three programs of the season.

On Nov. 19 the speaker will be Judge Mary Grossman of the municipal court of Cleveland, and on Jan. 21 Dr. Marie K. Mason, director of the speech and hearing clinic at Ohio State university will discuss "Teaching Visual Comprehension of Speech to Children and Adults Through Motion Pictures."

Completing the year's program will be James Cassidy of Cincinnati, commentator on WLW who will come to Marion for a program on Feb. 18, a program by the Ohio Wesleyan Music department on March 18 and Dr. Dudley Crafts Watson of the Art Institute in Chicago who will give an illustrated talk on "Gardens Around the World" on April 15. Miss Ruth Turner is program chairman for the year.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lilley of Woodrow avenue had as week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shaw of Warren, O., and Mrs. John G. Schneider and Hayse N. Lilley, all of Kenton.

WINS HIGH HONOR. Wearing The Medal for Merit which had just been awarded to her in New York by order of President Truman is Mrs. Henry A. Ingraham. A vice president of the USO and a former president of the national board of the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. Ingraham is the first woman to receive the high honor.

Weddings

In a double ring ceremony read Saturday, Oct. 5 at 3:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Tabor Evangelical Lutheran church in Chicago, Ill., Miss Margaret Sass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sass of Chicago, was united in marriage with Paul E. Bishop, son of Mrs. Lillie M. Bishop of 473 North State street. Rev. Albert Buck of Chicago officiated. Piano music by Mrs. James R. Bishop of Marion, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, preceded the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a pure white satin gown and her fingertip veil was held by an ivory tiara studded with pearls. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and she carried a colonial bouquet of white pompons. Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss LaVerne Mahler of Des Plaines, Ill., and bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Loretta Sass of Chicago. They were attired in matching gowns and carried colonial bouquets of yellow pompons.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Franklin Bishop. Usher was Roger Thake of Chicago.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents. After this a reception was held at the V.F.W. hall for approximately 300 relatives and friends. The couple left on a two weeks wedding trip and will make their future home in Chicago.

Attending the wedding from Marion were Mrs. Lillie Bishop and son, Franklin, and Mr. and Mrs. James Bishop, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bishop of Dixon, Ill., formerly of Marion.

The Kirkpatrick Methodist church was the scene of the wedding Sunday of Miss Emberta Speece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Speece of near Marion and Bobbie J. Boyd son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Boyd of north of Marion. The double ring ceremony was read at 2:30 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. Arthur Bowen, before the altar, decorated with white gladioli and pompons with a background of ferns, palms and two seven branch candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour program of piano and vocal numbers was presented. Miss Lucille Kennedy played, "Indian Love Call," "At Dawning," "Because," "Meditation," "Asperation," "In My Garden," and "On Promise Me." Miss Doris Boyd, sister of the bridegroom sang "On Perfect Love," "Always" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded satin fashioned with a fitted bodice with the neck and sleeves trimmed with beading. Her finger tip veil was held with a crown of lace material. She carried a white Bible, a gift from her parents, with streamers tied with white pompons and ferns.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Fern Speece, who wore a gown of light blue brocaded satin, trimmed with a net yoke and gold sequins and wore a corsage of white roses. Carl Burns served as best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Ernest Speece and Raymond Thomas, both of Columbus. Junior Speece, brother of the bride lighted the candles.

Mrs. Speece wore a black crepe dress with matching accessories and a corsage of orchid pompons. Mrs. Boyd chose a green wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow pompons.

A reception for 65 guests at the home of the bride's parents, followed the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the table which was decorated with a bouquet of mixed flowers and lighted by tall white tapers. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Earl Thomas and Mrs. Dessie Bayles. Both Mr. and Mrs. Boyd are graduates of the Kirkpatrick High school. They will make their home with the bridegroom's parents where Mr. Boyd is now engaged in farming.

In a double wedding ceremony read Saturday, Sept. 28 at 1:40 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. Nola West of Marion became the bride of Lee Roy Caswell of Hildebran, N. C., and Miss Amy Greathouse was united with Walter Bryan both of Marion. Dr. V. E. Buser, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, officiated for the double ring ceremonies at his home on East Center street.

The brides were dressed alike in aqua colored suits with black accessories. To complete their costumes each wore a pink blouse and a pink feathered hat.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was served at Turoff's restaurant for the bridal party and Mrs. Caswell's mother. For the occasion she wore a dark green dress with black accessories.

Mrs. Caswell served as pastor of the Assembly of God church here for the last ten years. Mr. Caswell is foreman of a silk mill in Hildebran. They are making their home in Hickory, N. C.

Mrs. Bryan has been employed as secretary of the Assembly of God church for three years. Mr. Bryan is employed by the Erie Railroad Co. They are residing at 539 Polk street.

Dutch Conclude Truce with Rebel Indonesians

By The Associated Press

BATAVIA, Oct. 14—The Netherlands government and the Indonesian Republic signed a truce agreement today calling for immediate cessation of the 14-month conflict in the East Indies.

No "cease fire" order has yet been issued but the agreement stipulates that the truce between Indonesian and Allied forces will become effective as of today.

The Dutch military position in the Indies, meanwhile, was strengthened by the arrival at Batavia of the Karel Doorman, Holland's only aircraft carrier.

THE MARION COMMUNITY FUND HELPS YOU, TOO!

Oct. 21 to Oct. 31 are going to be "Bargain Days in Giving" in Marion county when the Marion Community Foundation makes its appeal for $67,190.

A budget committee, after a thorough study, has reported this amount is needed to operate the Foundation and its six local agencies and to meet Marion county's share of the programs of two national agencies in the coming 12 months.

But YOU, as a donor, will benefit in this drive, too, in many important ways. A few of them are listed elsewhere on this page, and every one of them is an ADDED REASON why you should support this campaign EIGHT TIMES as liberally as you would contribute to one of the eight separate drives which would be necessary each year if it were not for the Marion Community Foundation.

Think over these 10 points before you decide on the amount of your gift. If you'll be honest with yourself in acknowledging what the Marion Community Foundation means to you, we know you'll give generously and cheerfully.

Here are 10 ways in which the Marion Community Fund Helps You!

1. Only once each year are you asked for a gift. Were it not for the unified fund appeal of the Marion Community Foundation, you would be asked to make eight separate gifts this year.

2 The costs of eight separate campaigns (all of which would have to come from your contributions) are eliminated, thanks to the single, low-cost drive conducted by the Marion Community Foundation. The campaign organization is made up entirely of volunteer workers —there is no paid campaign director. This means a savings for YOU.

3. If you are a campaign worker, you get an additional benefit. Instead of being asked to serve in several fund campaigns each 12 months, you serve only once. Many hours of volunteer community effort are saved annually for hundreds of persons.

4. The Marion Community Foundation gives you the benefit of the research work and critical review of a BUDGET COMMITTEE—one group which passes on all budget requests individually before they are permitted to become a part of the Community Fund goal. Such research and study of budgets by competent, impartial citizens is not possible in separate agency campaigns.

5. Your community contribution to the Marion Community Foundation enables you to make a BALANCED GIFT and apportion your donation among deserving agencies on the basis of need and the public service each performs. Hours of study would be required of each contributor to apportion eight separate agency gifts as equitably as the Marion Community Foundation plan provides automatically.

6. It provides an orderly arrangement for handling the fund appeals of deserving agencies. Separate agency drives, which are within the memory of most Marion residents, were accompanied by conflicting drive dates, overlapping of campaign organizations and an almost continual series of drives. The Community Foundation reduces this to one orderly campaign.

7. It relieves the member agencies of the task of planning and conducting their own drives, freeing their personnel to do their primary jobs of public service. As a result, each agency is enabled to function more effectively throughout the year without the interruption of making its own separate appeal for funds.

8. It centralizes community work and assures a better balanced program of character-building, religious, educational and welfare work than would be possible if each agency were strictly "on its own" instead of functioning as a member agency of the Marion Community Foundation.

9. It makes possible a thorough campaign which reaches everyone, thus spreading the burden of giving over a greater number of contributors. This all-inclusive campaign thus proportionately reduces each individual's share by reaching more donors than any one of eight separate drives could possibly contact.

10. It actually saves you money, for the reasons outlined above and for many other reasons: such as its tendency to reduce duplication of effort among agencies, etc. A little sober thought should convince everyone that the Marion Community Foundation is a double blessing—to the persons who are benefited by its agencies and those who make up the ranks of its supporters.

Marion's Community Fund Drive will get under way just a week from today! You know the importance of this drive . . . . we urge you to have your gift ready for the campaign worker who will call on you. The Marion Community Foundation, in this annual drive is offering you . . . . A BARGAIN IN GIVING ! ! !

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Traffic Mishaps Over Week-end Send Victims to City Hospital.

Traffic accidents over the weekend in the Marion area sent two persons to Marion City hospital, according to a report today from the state highway patrol.

In City hospital are Russell Wallace, 46, of 899 S. Prospect street, suffering from a broken left arm and face and scalp lacerations, and Miss Lillian E. Veley, 22, of 1007 Uncapher avenue, suffering from a fractured right leg. Both were taken to City hospital in the Boyd and Uncapher ambulance.

Wallace was injured Saturday at 6:45 p. m. one-tenth mile west of Marion on route 30-S when he was struck as he walked along the highway by an automobile driven by Berlin Ferguson, 26, of Marion route 3, the highway patrol reported. Wallace was pushing a cart loaded with junk when the accident happened. The car was demolished.

Miss Veley was injured Sunday at 2:30 p. m. on Waldo when the motorcycle she was riding crashed into two cars at an intersection in Waldo. Driver of the motorcycle was Franklin M. Bollinger, 25, of 208 Lincoln avenue, who was uninjured. According to the patrol, Bollinger was traveling west when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by James E. Clark, 20, of Radnor route 1 and then careened into a second car driven by Bruce B. Baker, 17, of Waldo. Miss Veley's leg was believed to have been crushed between the motorcycle and the bumpers of one of the cars.

Grace M. Dollman, 63, of Lansing, Mich., escaped with minor injuries today at 9:55 a. m. when the automobile she was driving went out of control on route 23 south of Marion, rolling over in the road several times, the patrol reported. Considerable damage was reported to her car.

An accident at Newman's bridge on route 4 and seven miles south of Marion Friday at 2:45 p. m. was reported by the patrol today. Donald Dean Kramer, 18, of Upper Sandusky, was driving a tractor-trailer unit north when he lost control of the vehicle which skidded into the bridge the patrol said. Kramer escaped without injuries but considerable damage was reported to the tractor-trailer and to the bridge.

Several arrests for traffic violation were made by state patrolmen in the Marion area over the weekend. Harry Edgar Wells of Ostrander route 1 was arrested Saturday at 10 p. m. on route 36 west of Delaware, charged with having no driver's license. He was fined $5 and costs by the Delaware mayor Sunday night.

Clarence E. Townsend of Westfield, N. J., was arrested Saturday at 10:15 p. m. on a charge of reckless driving on route 23 south of Marion and posted a $25 bond for his appearance in Municipal court today. Clarence A. Morrison, 30, of Fostoria was arrested on a charge of speeding on route 23 north of the city Sunday at 1:45 p. m. and also posted a $25 bond for his appearance in Municipal court today.

John W. Kerr, 28, of Upper Sandusky was arrested Sunday at 10:15 p. m. on route 23 north, charged with failure to transfer his automobile license. He is scheduled to appear before the Upper Sandusky mayor at 8 p. m. Oct. 19.

REDUCING SALON SOLD TO MARION RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ulery Buy S. Main St. Business.

Announcement is being made today of the purchase of the Marcelle Reducing Salon at 149 South Main street by Maxine and Vernon Ulery of Marion from Irving A. Deitchman. Mrs. Ulery formerly was an operator at the salon.

The new owners announce that a reducing service for men patrons with Mr. Ulery in charge will start Tuesday. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ulery are residents of Marion and make their home at 384 Uncapher avenue. Mr. Ulery is a veteran of World War II and served more than a year in the Philippine Islands. Mrs. Ulery attended the Ethel Brown Reducing studio in Columbus. Mr. Deitchman plans to return to his former home in California.

Rev. Kenneth Stover, pastor of the U. B. church and Scoutmaster of Troop 31 of Tiro, then gave the invocation.

R. R. Peters, a Harding Area Council commissioner who acted as master of ceremonies, gave a brief outline of President Harding's career.

Wreaths Placed

Wreaths were then laid on the tombs of the former President and his wife to the accompaniment of processional music by the Harding High school band.

Col. B. M. Crenshaw, deputy post commander of Fort Hayes presented a wreath sent by the President of the United States. Three Girl Scouts, Beverly Brobark, Janet Keener and Arlene Haupt laid a wreath on the tomb of Mrs. Harding. Scouts Harold Stinchelfer of Bucyrus and Orland Beveridge and Paul White of Marion placed a wreath representing the Boy Scouts.

Following the laying of the wreaths the benediction was given by Rev. Stover and taps were sounded by Star Scout Walter Bechtle of Marion.

After the ceremony the President Harding home was opened for inspection by the Boy Scouts and refreshments were served on the grounds.

A Girl Scout tea was held at Epworth Methodist church.

O. M. Bell, vice president of Taylorcraft, predicted that the Alliance firm will produce 15,000 aluminum or steel houses in 1947.

"Production space is now available in the Taylorcraft plant and we will begin manufacture of prefabricated homes in January," Bell reported. "The one-story homes will cost about $6,500."

The Alliance official said government priorities for materials to complete the program next year "have been promised," and added that the question of whether the housing units would be built of steel or aluminum would depend upon which material would be available under the priority system.

Berry Patch Slaying Trial Begins at Ashland

By The Associated Press

ASHLAND, O., Oct. 14—Charged with second degree murder, Charles E. Briggs, 62-year-old farmer from Lake township, went on trial today in the berry patch slaying of Mrs. Mabel McKinley, of Wayne county.

Mrs. McKinley was shot last July 31 as she and her husband were picking berries on the Briggs farm. She was the mother of three children.

MEAT, MONEY ISSUES OHIO

Lausche and Herbert Bring Them Into State Gubernatorial Campaign.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Meat and money were made issues in the Ohio gubernatorial campaign today.

Gov. Lausche, campaigning for reelection on the Democratic ticket, asserted in a campaign speech at Akron last night "the money cannot win elections your next governor will not be Frank Lausche."

His Republican opponent, Thomas J. Herbert, in a statement issued here, described Lausche's appeal to President Truman to lift price controls on meat as a "despairing candidate's cry for help from his New Deal allies."

"Money Power" Hit

Lausche, who addressed the American-Slovak political club, appealed to "the simple, heartfelt people of the state of Ohio who have faith in me to help me in this election to defeat the power of money."

The Chief Executive declared that in Cleveland "my opposition spent $37,000 for precinct workers to organize registration for the Republicans" on the final registration day.

"My opposition spent in one city, on one day, more money than I will spend in my entire campaign," Lausche said. "Further, my opposition has promised to pay a bonus for further campaign work. I have no money to pay bonuses, nor do I believe they should be paid."

Lausche concluded, "but money has never won elections in free America, and will not win now" of those who have "faith organize a mouth-to-mouth campaign."

Referring to Lausche's telegram to the President Saturday night recommending termination of price control on meat, Herbert declared that Lausche only last June backed the office of price administration.

The adjument over OPA went on over the radio in a Columbus Town Meeting debate here last night.

Blames New Deal

Representative George H. Bender of Cleveland, Republican congressman-at-large, discussing high prices, declared "the New Deal and the New Deal alone is responsible for the plight in which we find ourselves today."

His Democratic opponent, State Senator William N. Boyd, retorted, "the Republicans can bear full responsibility for the crippled OPA we have today. They teamed up with the southern Democrats to defeat price controls."

In Cleveland, district council No. 7 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO) announced it was conducting a state-wide campaign to obtain 100,000 signatures on petitions demanding Presidential seizure of meat-packing houses.

Supreme Court Rejects Bilbo Ouster Request

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—The supreme court today rejected a request that it bar Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) from his senate seat.

The request was made by James L. P. Rumole, New York City, who told the court that Bilbo had deprived Mississippi citizens of the right to vote because of their "color and racial origins."

The application noted that the constitution makes each house of congress the judge of the qualifications of its members. Rumble added that the constitution "has not clothed either of the houses with power of being the exclusive judges of the elections of members."

The court merely noted that Rumble's petition was denied and gave no reason.

French Constitution Gets Public Approval

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 14—A constitution for France's Fourth Republic, providing for a powerful legislature overshadowing the president, bore the stamp of public approval today, given in the face of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's opposition.

The people of continental France accepted the new constitution yesterday by a margin of some 1,212,000 votes—and a percentage of 53.6 in favor of 46.4 opposed. Voting was light, with 31.9 per cent of the registered voters staying away from the polls.

FREIGHT TRAIN DERAILED

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14—Five wrecking train crews today cleared the main line tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad west of Pittsburgh after the derailment of a freight train tore up the right-of-way and spilled hundreds of tons of coal. Main line passenger traffic was snarled for eight hours. E. J. Jennings, assistant road foreman, said he believed a broken axle caused the derailment last night of 28 cars of a 78-car coal and freight train, running as an extra between Shire Oaks and Conway.

Gen. Stilwell, Hero of Burma Jungle Warfare, Dies at 63

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, 63, commander of the 6th Army affectionately known as "Vinegar Joe" by his former American and Chinese command in Burma, died Saturday in his sleep of a liver ailment.

Immediately following his death, it was revealed that Gen. Stilwell expressed a wish that there be no funeral services—that he be cremated and his ashes spread from an airplane over the Pacific near his home in Carmel, Calif. Those rites will be held Wednesday.

Death was attributed to cancer of the liver, which was discovered during the treatment of an amoebic abscess. The general submitted to an operation Oct. 3. His condition became critical Oct. 9, and he grew progressively weaker.

Gen. Stilwell rarely wore decorations but the army gave him on his death bed the one he had said he most coveted. It was the Combat Infantryman's Badge, which is awarded only for extended fighting at the front against the enemy.

Gen. Stilwell's life and talents were given to soldiering. He was born at Palatka, Fla. in 1883, and was graduated in 1904 from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where he established a record as an athlete.

He fought through major engagements in France during World War I and received the Distinguished Service Medal. His son, then Col. Stilwell, pinned the Distinguished Service Cross on the famous father in a surprise ceremony in Chungking during World War II.

The general's widow is the former Winifred Alison Smith of Syracuse, N. Y. The surviving members of the family include his sons, Col. Stilwell, liaison officer to the Canadian army at Edmonton, Alberta, and Benjamin W., student at Stanford University; three daughters, Mrs. E. F. Easterbrook of Fort Benning, Ga.; Mrs. William E. Cox of San Francisco and Miss Alison Stilwell of San Francisco, a brother, John, of Ardenwold, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Stuart Wilder, of Newton, Conn.

Molotov Assails Conference

given Bulgaria some territory from Greece.

The conference of 21 nations, taking action on the final draft treaty with Finland, prepared to adjourn tomorrow. The draft treaties then must be approved finally by the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France at meetings in New York.

Vandenberg Speaks

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg spoke before Molotov and demanded that the Finnish reparation bill be raised from $300,000,000 to $200,000,000—a move that kindled Molotov's anger. The Michigan senator said:

"The United States will leave its motives to the verdict of history in connection with the winning of the war and the writing of a just peace. We decline to plead as defendants among allies to whom we have given every ounce of cooperation in blood and treasure of which a great nation is capable. But we shall continue to speak for the American conception of justice and fair play."

Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin of Great Britain upheld the Russian claim to $300,000,000 from Finland.

Molotov said Vandenberg's address "made an unfavorable impression both as to his consistency and his frankness." He asserted that Russia had avoided putting "pressure" on Finland for two years but that the western allies had not done likewise.

"We draw the attention of Finland to the difference between a true and a scheming friendship," he said.

Defends Veto Power

Molotov spoke violently against criticisms of the veto power of the five leading Allied nations in the United Nations security council saying:

"The right of veto is not involved, but a question of whether they desire unanimity and cooperation among the great countries."

Australia, Cuba and the president of the general assembly of the UN, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, has voiced recent criticism of the veto.

Molotov implied that Spaak was under foreign influence.

His speech contrasted with an address earlier by Bevin, who said the peace conference, given the job of going over the drafts submitted by the foreign ministers' council, "has accomplished this task and accomplished it well."

Recalls Stalin Statement

He recalled that Prime Minister Stalin had said late in 1944 that "the United Nations organization would be effective only if the great powers continued to act in a spirit of unanimity."

"At that time no opposite views were expressed," he said, "but the war is over. x x x Now there are attempts to adopt new ways."

He referred also to Stalin's recent pronouncements saying he believed in the possibility of friendly cooperation with the Western powers. Molotov declared:

"This is the policy to which the Soviet Union adheres."

He assailed what he termed Great Britain's "strange policy" of "playing" with Finland. He declared he wantaed to "warn the representatives of Finland on this score. x x x This is the same game which brought reactionary circles to power in Finland and led to the recent war. x x x The lessons of the past ought to be learned."

Referring to Secretary of State Byrnes' insistence on an early peace conference, Molotov said "certain delegations" insisted on a conference before there was complete agreement.

Hits "Dictation"

He said the chief reason for the "unsatisfactory" conference results was that "throughout the course of the conference, from beginning to end, a certain group of states desired to take a dominating position and dictate what they thought essential."

Molotov said that in repeated 15 to six decision, distant or "dominated" or uninterested states such as Ethiopia, India, Norway and New Zealand were usually found among the majority. He singled out India for special criticism citing its vote for free navigation on the Danube and convocation of a Danubian conference.

What Indian interests are affected? Molotov asked, "all will understand that if it were the vote of an independent India, if the representatives of a genuine Indian government were here then the Indian delegation would be more objective and more impartial."

He asserted that the conference decision to shelve the Greek-Bulgarian frontier question came from a majority "which as an instrument of a certain state playing a game in favor of Greece against Bulgaria."

"The voting on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier is a serious political error likely to create trouble," he warned, "it is a service to those who may long for new aggression. It will not serve world peace."

On the question of international guarantees of free navigation on the Danube, bitterly opposed by the Soviet Union, Molotov said that Norway, Ethiopa and India had cast the deciding "aye" votes under "external pressure."

Champions Bulgar Frontiers

On the vote by which the conference failed to agree to fix Bulgaria's frontiers at the line of January, 1941, Molotov thundered:

"This voting could not be approved prior to the conference. I should like to assure Bulgaria 'your frontiers will remain unchanged.'"

Before Molotov spoke, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg called upon delegates to reject a clause in the Finnish treaty, the only one still to be approved in plenary session, under which Finland would pay Russia $300,000,000 in reparations. Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin of Britain upheld Russia's claim against the Finns.

The foreign ministers' council Molotov said, should have gone on to reach agreement among its members on the disputed treaty points before presenting the five drafts to the 21 nations of the conference.

In addition, he charged that other members of the Big Four—which includes, besides Russia, the U. S., Britain and France—had been willing to "renounce" the agreed portions and change their stand, particularly on the Trieste question, when they found the conference "amenable" to a solution which was "not democracy."

Flaunt Annexation

Vandenberg spoke after a White Russian spokesman had flaunted Soviet annexation of Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia by presenting damage claims for them and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had told the conference on the eve of adjournment that it had accomplished its job in passing on the treaty drafts.

Lauding Finland's "scrupulous fidelity" in paying her debts, Vandenberg said the $300,000,000 penalty should be sent back to the Big Four foreign ministers with a recommendation that it be reduced to $200,000,000.

Vandenberg's speech in the plenary session echoed United States demands in the economic commission that Finland's reparations to Russia be pared down a third.

The Finnish draft—along with the treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary—will go to the Foreign ministers' council for approval after being passed by the plenary session, scheduled to adjourn tomorrow.

RUNAWAY CAR WRECKS HOTEL

$100,000 Damage Results as Refrigerator Smashes Into Lobby.

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 14—A runaway refrigerator car smashed into the lobby of the 40-year-old Frances hotel in downtown Springfield yesterday, causing damage estimated by owner William Wendt at more than $100,000.

Energetic efforts of the 40-year-old desk clerk Ben King to get out one side of the lobby as the New York Central car entered from the street brought the freak mishaps only casualty—a slightly twisted leg.

Running King a close race for the lobby door where five other persons, none of whom was hurt, although the first and second floors immediately plummeted to the basement.

Derailed at Side

The car, filled with 50 tons of oleomargarine, was one of three which derailed from a freight train chugging through the hotel. Railroaders said the car which hit the hotel left the rails 100 feet to the east, clearing off a switch post enroute.

Many of the hostelry's 100 patrons were hurled from their beds under the impact, which Wendt described as like an earthquake.

Unshaken by his experience the retund desk clerk smilingly recounted how "I saw the box car coming, free of the tracks."

"I began to wonder if it wasn't about time to move. About that time the car came in the front door. It knocked me from my stool back of the desk and I left running."

"The rest of the people in the lobby started the same time I did."

One patron was trapped in a third-floor room above the derailed refrigerator car. He was found standing on a nearby city park, wrapped in a sheet.

Doesn't Remember

"I don't know how I got down from there," he told Wendt. As he talked the bed in which he had been sleeping slowly slid down the room's floor, by then tilted to a 45-degree angle.

A section of the hotel front—20 feet wide and three stories high—was torn away in the crash, and the hotel register was buried deep in the basement amid the debris of three floors. None of the hotel patrons could be identified.

"I was thrown from my bed," Wendt said. "I thought it was an earthquake. The whole building shook. This is the third time in a month a car has been derailed along this stretch of track."

Several thousand persons crowded police lines as New York Central workers labored well past midafternoon, attempting to pull the car from the building. About one-third of the car was inside the building and the front trucks had fallen to the basement.

The railroad did not announce the wreck cause.

Main-line traffic was rerouted around Springfield.

The entire 72-room hotel was out of line and the walls were cracked.

The train had been made up in Springfield and was enroute to Indianapolis.

Born July 6, 1864, in Muskingum county, she was a daughter [illegible] and Susan Baker Himmelright. Nov. 11, 1885, she married [illegible] Cramer in Marion. He died July 25, 1943. Mrs. Cramer was a member of Greenwood Presbyterian church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Florence Hill of 511 Ballenger avenue, Mrs. Ethel Parker of 604 Mary street and Mrs. [illegible] Yost of 273 Patten street.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Boyd and Uncapher funeral home on West Columbia street by Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

60 Absentee Baloits Cast for Nov. 5 Election

Sixty absentee ballots have been cast at the Marion county board of elections office, according to a report from board officials today. Of the total 52 are regular ballots and eight are servicemen's ballots. Absentee voting is running slightly under normal for this time of year, election officials said.

Persons who expect to be more than 50 miles from their precinct on election day are eligible to vote by absentee ballots, which must be cast by 6:30 p. m. Oct. 31. Majority of the absentee ballots are from railroad employes.

Mackenzie Says Few Will Mourn Demise of Nazis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Come Wednesday morning in old Nuernberg and, if present plans are carried out, eleven of Adolf Hitlers' captains will join him—via the gallows shortcut—in whatever torment is reserved in the hereafter for those who try to gain power by organized barbarism against their fellow men.

DewittMackenzie

Hermann Goering — No. 2 Nazi — is spending much of his time lying on his bunk, staring at the ceiling. The rest are engaged according to their temperaments, but all show signs of strain as they wait for Wednesday's dawn.

The world will waste no tears over this grim prelude to death—or over the executions, for that matter. Still, we have here an unusual case, and on-lookers differ in their reactions to the hangings. They seem to be divided into three classes: (1) those who are satisfied with the punishment, (2) those who wish it could be made more severe, and (3) those who are uneasy because of moral or religious objections to the death penalty in general.

Capital punishment of course has been employed from the remote ages, and not so many generations ago it was imposed for a large number of crimes, some of them trivial, like picking a pocket of a few pieces of silver. Nowadays, however, it generally is the penalty for murder or treason, though laws vary in different countries.

Ancient Methods Varied

Ancient methods of execution were numerous and some of them pretty awful. Even today the forms are varied for there are the lethal chamber, electrocution, hanging, shooting, the axe, the guillotine and the garrote which kills by strangulation.

Religious objection to the taking of human life, even by legal process, finds support in various religions. One of the most unusual cases I've encountered is in India among the Jains who are forbidden to take life in any form. Orthodox Jains follow this so rigidly that they even wear strips of gauze over their mouths to prevent the unintentional destruction of insects which are too tiny to see.

However, there are many differences of view even among religious folk on the subject of taking human life. Your columnist is reminded of a sermon he heard back at the time America was brought into the late war. The clergyman said to his big audience in about these words:

"I'm going to say something which will shock many of you, especially since it comes from a minister speaking from the pulpit. But I must say it. There are times when Christians have to kill—and this is one of them."

Effectiveness Doubted

Apart from the religious and moral viewpoint, there are many people who hold that capital punishment fails as a deterrent to crime. It is pointed out that many criminals would prefer death to life imprisonment. In fact, the Nuernberg trials provide illustration in support of this thesis. Grand Admiral Eric Raeder pleaded (unsuccessfully) for death instead of the life imprisonment which was imposed on him.

That is an argument which perhaps never will be settled. In any event, a score of nations have abolished capital punishment, and several states in our own country have done likewise.

There's one sure thing to be said about execution. It certainly stops the criminal involved from further assaults on society. From this standpoint the consensus seems to be that the world will be better off when the Fuehrer's captains join him. And there are few indeed, no matter what their religious beliefs, who don't agree that the Nazi chiefs should be permanently removed from society in some manner—if not by death, then by life imprisonment. They are too terribly dangerous to be free.

TAFT AND G.O.P. BLAMED FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING

Sen. Pepper Says Both Are Directly Responsible.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Addressing a CIO-PAC rally, Sen. Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) asserted here yesterday that the Republican party and particularly Sen. Robert A. Taft were largely to blame for the present high cost of living.

Pepper told the rally, attended by delegations from throughout the state, that the Ohio Republican senator "more than any other man in America" had brought on high prices and the shortage of meat.

"It was Senator Taft and the Republican party which he dominates in congress which wrecked the price control program in order to profit more the manufacturers and processors," Pepper asserted.

In Cincinnati, Senator Taft told newsmen:

"While I was voting for decontrol, Senator Pepper and his friends insisted on continued control, although all through the spring 75 per cent of the meat was sold in the black market.

"During the period of decontrol x x x there was plenty of meat. x x xWhen controls were reimposed, meat disappeared."

Sales Tax Receipts Are $10,998 for Week

Dwindling Collection of Unbeaten Teams Due for Further Shaving

Undefeated Elevens Clash In Next Saturday's Grid Battles

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—That dwindling collection of unbeaten football teams, thinned last Saturday by the fall of such stalwarts as Michigan, Yale, Stanford and St. Mary's, is due for another reduction this week when some of the better all-victorious outfits come to grips with each other.

Army met and mastered Michigan 20-13. Army returns to Yankee Stadium to find its bid for a 32nd consecutive victory challenged by a Columbia team that is showing a habit of spoiling perfect records.

The Lions ran their own victory string to three games Saturday by bouncing Yale out of the undefeated class, 28-20, just a week after they had put the first blotch on the season on Navy's slate.

Texas Meets Arkansas

Texas, which had all it could handle in turning back Oklahoma 20-13 for its fourth win in a row, now must meet the invasion of an Arkansas team which blanked Baylor 13-0 and is unbeaten in four starts.

Alabama and Tennessee, undefeated favorites in the Southeastern conference, collide at Knoxville. Both teams warmed up for this one with breathers, Alabama breezing through Southwest Louisiana 54-0 and Tennessee swamping Chattanooga 47-7.

UCLA, which put the first dent in Stanford's hopes for a Pacific Coast conference title, 26-6, moves against California, the team that knocked St. Mary's out of the unbeaten ranks in a 20-13 upset.

About the only major all-victorious eleven that won't be in any immediate danger this week is powerful Notre Dame. The Irish are idle this week.

The Columbia-Army fuss headlines Saturday's eastern program, which also includes several intersectional games. Virginia, 19-8 victor over VMI, invades undefeated Pennsylvania, which handed Dartmouth its first loss 39-6.

Fordham vs. St. Mary's

St. Mary's comes to New York to renew its intersectional rivalry with Fordham. Michigan State will be at Penn State, and Marquette at Pittsburgh.

North Carolina, 33-0 winner over Maryland, will be at Navy, which lost, to Duke 21-6, and Duke visits Cornell, 13-9 conqueror of Colgate. Other major eastern games will find Dartmouth at Brown, Syracuse at Holy Cross, Rutgers at Princeton, Army at Colgate and Coast Guard at Harvard, which nosed out Princeton 13-12 Saturday.

In the midwest, where the Big Ten has already has been twisted out of shape by upsets, Michigan will take on Northwestern in a game that might produce the conference champion. The Wildcats stunned back Minnesota 14-7 Saturday for their third triumph in as many starts.

Wisconsin, which whipped Ohio State 20-7, will be at Illinois, defeated by Indiana 14-7. Iowa, 7-7 victor over Nebraska, visits Indiana and Purdue invades Ohio State in other Big Nine engagements, while Wyoming has intersectional date at Minnesota.

A full program in the Big Six finds Kansas State to Oklahoma, Nebraska to Kansas and Iowa State to Missouri.

Other Pairings

Other Southwestern conference pairings will find Georgia Tech, 24-7 winner over Mississippi, at Louisiana State, which stampeded Texas A. and M., 33-9; Vanderbilt, 20-0 conqueror of Florida, at Kentucky, and Auburn, which whipped St Louis, 27-7, at Tulane, 25-6 loser to Rice.

Oklahoma A. and M. will be at Georgia, Miami at Florida, Louisiana Tech at Mississippi, Furman at The Citadel, Davidson at VMI, Richmond at Duke, North Carolina State at Wake Forest and William and Mary at Washington and Lee. San Francisco plays Mississippi State at Memphis.

In addition to the Arkansas-Texas struggle, other Southwest conference games send Southern Methodist to Rice and Texas Christian to Texas A. and M. Baylor will be at Texas Tech.

On the Pacific coast, Washington, which finally hit the win column by trouncing Washington State 21-7, invades Southern California, upset by Oregon State, 6-0, and Washington State goes to Oregon, 34-6 winner over Montana, for conference tussles.

Other western headliners will find Santa Clara at Stanford.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—Maybe you're not picking Texas as the No. 1 college football team this week—what with Army, Notre Dame and U.C.L.A. still in the argument—but here's what one Oklahoma scout reported before last Saturday's fracas: "They don't make any mistakes, offensively or defensively, and thus will not beat themselves as so many college teams do; their quarterbacking is exceptional; they have terrific team speed, four ends who can outrun our fastest backs and the greatest collegiate forward passer in the country in Bobby Layne." The Sooner scout, Walter Driskill, insisted the Texas team is so good it can telegraph its plays and get there, anyhow, by perfect execution...What Driskill neglected to mention was that Oklahoma has a line which has held Army and Texas each to 83 net yards by rushing.

Fine Support

Five years ago the Tucson, Ariz. city council passed an ordinance which read: "It shall be unlawful for any visiting football player or football team to carry, convey, tote, kick, throw, pass or otherwise transport or propel any inflated pigskin across the University of Arizona goal line or score a safety within the confines of the city of Tucson, county of Pima, state of Arizona."....The law still is on the books, though it never has been enforced.... Maybe the St. Louis city fathers should do something of the sort for the Cardinals.

• • •

Maybe he should collect some of that birdshot the St. Louis pitchers have been throwing at him...Belated thought by Eddie (Lansford, Pa.) UNBEATEN OHIO 11'S FACE STIFF FIGHTS

All 4 Slated To Meet Rough Opponents Saturday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Ohio's four unbeaten, untied collegiate football elevens face stern tests on the coming weekend's 21-game pigskin program which send 34 of the state's college grid machines into action.

Untested Kent State, with three lopsided victories to its credit, tangles Saturday with the Bowling Green Falcons who pushed highly-touted Miami all the way before bowing 6-0 last week-end.

Defiance, holding two triumphs over Indiana teams, meets its first Ohio foe in Findlay's Oilers who have won two and lost one.

Ohio U. stakes its three-game streak against Cincinnati's Bearcats, who hold a decision over Indiana's Big Nine champs and have lost only to Kentucky.

Oberlin's Yeomen, who extended last year's perfect record with a 25-0 verdict over Carnegie Tech, face Ohio Wesleyan's Bishops, victims of Wayne university who bounced back last week to hold powerful Baldwin-Wallace to a scoreless tie.

The schedule:

October 18, Friday

At Cleveland—Western Reserve vs Baldwin Wallace.
At Wilmington — Earlham vs. Wilmington (night).
At New Concord—Indiana Central Normal vs Muskingum.

October 19, Saturday

At Columbus — Purdue vs Ohio State.
At Alliance — Akron vs Mount Union.
At Springfield—Ashland vs Wittenberg.
At Kent—Bowling Green vs Kent State.
At Cleveland — John Carroll vs Case.
At Bluffton—Manchester vs Bluffton.

WIN FIRST GRID GAME

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 14—Led by halfback Herman Duhe, the Akron Bears won their first game of the season yesterday at the expense of the Scranton Miners, 36 to 0, in a Western division American pro-football contest. Duhe scored three touchdowns.

Spanish War Veterans To Hold Inspection

Final plans were made for the annual inspection to be held next Friday night at a meeting of Marion Camp No. 32, United Spanish War Veterans. Plans also were made for the dinner preceding the inspection when the members will join with Betsy Ross auxiliary for a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting and dinner will be at the Legion dugout.

E. E. Sykes of Belle Center, junior vice department commander of Ohio, will be the inspecting officer and other department officers are also expected to be present.

Only Four Unbeaten Ohio Teams Remain As Smoke of Weekend Grid Battles Clears

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Only a quartet of Ohio college elevens sported perfect records today after a weekend of nip-and-tuck gridiron struggles that produced a series of ties and narrow victories and dumped five teams out of the unbeaten, untied class.

Those with slates still unblemished were: Ohio university and Kent State with three victories each; Defiance with two, and Oberlin, which opened its season with a 25-0 conquest of Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

Tie games edged the twice-victorious Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets and Mount Union's Purple Raiders from the select list. The Yellow Jackets, after rolling up 80 points and blanking their first two opponents, were held to a 0-0 deadlock by once-beaten Ohio Wesleyan's Bishops. The purple Raiders skidded to a 6-6 tie on Ashland college's soggy gridiron.

3 Teams Bounced

Three teams were bounced into the defeated category.

Wilberforce, the state's leading offensive eleven with 145 points, dropped its first in four starts to Tuskegee institute at Chicago by a 14-7 score.

Muskingum Muskies' two-game streak was ended by Ohio U's Bobcats who tallied three touchdowns in 18 minutes then coasted to a 38-0 decision with reserves playing most of the way.

Bluffton bowed the second time out as Kent State's Golden Flashes overpowered them, 39-0.

Two other contests on the week-end's 22-game card ended in deadlocks. Cedarville pushed over a fourth-quarter touchdown to even the score at 6-6 with Lawrence Tech in Detroit, and Toledo's Rockets, for the second time this season, wound up in a 14-14 tie, this time with Marshall's Thundering Herd at Huntington, W. Va. The Rockets opened their season with a 14-14 standoff against Western Reserve.

Ohio's prestige in the national grid picture suffered a comparative setback as Buckeye elevens, for the first time this season, were held even in eight contests against out-of-state foes. They won three, lost three and tied two for a season record of 21 victories, 14 defeats and two deadlocks against the outsiders.

Indiana Teams Strangled

Defiance maintained its stranglehold over Indiana teams, thumping Franklin, 15-6, for the Ohioans' second straight over Hoosier elevens. Western Reserve edged Wayne of Detroit 7 to 0, at Cleveland, and Oberlin's Yeomen, the only Ohio eleven with a perfect record last year, added another victory with a four-touchdown parade that marred Carnegie Tech's post-war return to football.

Besides Wilberforce on the losing side of the ledger, were Ohio State and Denison. Ohio State, wilting in the second half, blew a seven-point lead and dropped its Western Conference opener, 20 to 7, to the University of Wisconsin's Badgers. Denison also was the victim of a late uprising as Washington and Jefferson came from behind with a pair of TD's and triumphed, 12 to 6.

Miami, Cincinnati and Otterbein registered their third triumphs against one defeat each, but Miami's Redskins had a hard way to go in dusting off the stubborn Bowling Green Falcons, 6 to 0. Cincy's Bearcats had trouble with the Dayton Flyers, too, playing a scoreless first half before they got going to win 19-0.

Otterbein triumphed easily over Heidelberg, rolling to a 20-0 Ohio Conference victory that moved them into a tie for the league lead with Muskingum with a pair of wins each.

In other games Saturday, Wooster edged Capital 7-6 in another Ohio conference tilt; Findlay's Oilers registered their second loop win, 24-0 over Ohio Northern; Akron's Zippers turned back Case, 13-0, and Hiram's Terriers added a 6-0 defeat to the string of the Kenyon Lords who haven't won a game since 1943.

Veterans Plan Thriving City In Alaskan Wilds by Springtime

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14 — When spring comes to the Alaskan port of Chilkoot Barracks, a cooperative enterprise organized by a group of war veterans expects to have a new town well under way, on a site which for years was an army post.

Maj. Carl W. Heinmiller of Berea, now on terminal leave from the army, and one of the founders of the Veterans' Alaska Cooperative Co., described the project as "a pioneering set-up. It won't be easy at the start, but within two or three years we should have a thriving community of a thousand families."

The cooperative bought the post from the interior department under the surplus property act, at the ceiling price of $105,000.

Here is what it got: a tract of 400 acres, of which 66 are cleared; 66 buildings, including a 13-bed hospital, two barracks buildings and a fire station. It is located 15 miles south of Skagway.

"Chilkoot is an ideal spot," said Heinmiller. "We have everything ready to move in—the town has all utilities, many of the houses are furnished, we have running water and oil heat, sewage and other conveniences."

The idea is to name the place "Port Chilkoot." It started in 1904 as Fort Seward, and during the last war was an army recreation camp.

At first, says Heinmiller, the new town will emphasize the tourist and resort trade. Other enterprises are expected to include timbering, furniture manufacturing and possibly crab and shrimp fishing. Eventually the town will have various small businesses, a newspaper and radio station, says the major.

The first settlers are all veterans, each with a $100 common share in the cooperative. Non-veterans recommended by veterans who are members may join. All must purchase stock, and each has a vote in the affairs of the cooperative, which will concentrate the activities within the community and operate a general store. Each member, said Heinmiller, must have a $2,000 backlog to carry him along until returns from the project start coming in.

The cooperative gained ownership of the former army installation after hearings in Washington over the qualifications of the bidders. Originally the award was made to Kennet O'Harra, a former Ohio State university student who operates the O'Harra Bus Line, the largest in Alaska. O'Harra also bid the ceiling price.

The interior department ruled that under the "veterans' small business" provisions of the surplus property act, O'Harra was disqualified, being the operator of a large business.

G.O.P. PLEDGES USE OF "HORSE SENSE"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Predicting Republican control of the next congress, National Chairman B. Carroll Reece today said "we'll use horse sense and not horse meat" in developing a domestic program.

"The Republicans are not afraid of responsibility," he said at a press conference. "We have a program and are anxious to put it into operation. " think a lot of Democrats will join with us and help us to pass it over the President's veto if he should disapprove it. We'll use horse sense and not horse meat."

The Republican chairman was here to address tonight the annual fall convention of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's organizations. Other speakers will be Upton Close, radio commentator; U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft; former Gov. John W. Bricker, candidate for governor.

Chairman Reece said he felt certain the Republicans would gain control of both senate and house in the next congress by winning at least 10 senatorial seats from the Democrats and at least 50 seats in the house.

5TH TRAFFIC SAFETY DAY OBSERVED HERE

Y's Men's Club Aids in Saturday Program.

Members of the Y's Men's club aided Saturday in the Marion County Safety Council's drive against jay-walking and reckless driving.

Eleven club members were on hand distributing warning cards to pedestrians and motorists. They were headed by Louis B. Konkle.

Also assisting was a safety patrol from the Silver Street school under direction of Clark Fouts, principal.

The contact period, fifth of a series, was held Saturday afternoon in the downtown area. A sound truck and a police patrol car also assisted.

The Altrusa club and a group of Girl Scouts will participate next Saturday.

King's Daughters Circle Meets with Mrs. Cory

Silver Cross Circle of the King's Daughters held its annual guest party recently at the home of Mrs. F. C. Cory of 840 South Prospect street. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. C. B. Emery, Mrs. Paul Blair, Mrs. R. E. Acker, Mrs. B. H. Rice, Mrs. W. M. Morecraft, Mrs. W. C. Bailey, and Mrs. Dale Lawrence. Reports of the state convention held Oct. 1-2 at Steubenville were given by Mrs. Hugo Malo and Mrs. Paul Blair.

A special program, in honor of the guests, was presented as follows: a vocal trio, composed of Mrs. R. E. Acker, Mrs. Clara Campbell and Mrs. Eve Hunter, accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Sparks, sang "The Lost Chord," "Vira," and "Trees"; Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Sparks played three piano duet numbers, "Familiar Melodies," "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "Stardust"; Rev. Garrison Roebuck, pastor of the First United Brethren church, spoke on "The Miracle of Me and My Salvation."

Guests were Mrs. Clay Wilson, Miss Clara Alice Wilson, Mrs. Chester Geddis, Mrs. John Zeisler, Mrs. A. M. Hornby, Mrs. Pearl Thatcher, Mrs. H. H. Clark, Mrs. W. H. Melby, Mrs. W. D. McGee, Mrs. E. Rally Day Marked at Several Churches

Several Marion churches observed rally day Sunday with special services and marked increase in attendance.

Epworth Methodist church had a general program for all classes at the Sunday school hour; St. Paul English Lutheran church had a Sunday school program for rally observance; Forest Lawn Presbyterian church marked the day at Sunday school and morning worship hours, a basket dinner was served at noon, and a special program presented in the afternoon; the Victory Jubilee quartet of Detroit, Mich., assisting with revival services at First Church of the Nazarene, sang for the Sunday school rally at that church; and a quartet from Marion college, Marion, Ind., was present at Greenwood Evangelical church for the rally day program at the Sunday school.

OHIO DETECTIVE DIES

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Joseph D. Cleary, an OPA investigator and widely known Columbus private detective, died yesterday of a heart ailment. He was 60. Cleary was a special investigator for the late Gov. Vic Donahey and figured in the investigation of numerous notorious crimes, including the slaying of Don Mellett, crusading Canton editor, 20 years ago.

Bruce McVey says:

DIVES TO DEATH AT WIFE'S HOME. A rope is tied to tail of the plane in an effort to extricate it from alley between two buildings where it crashed in White Plains, N. Y., killing the pilot, Raymond Heraux, of New York City. Ironically, Heraux's estranged wife lives in the apartment house at left.

Communistic Menace Viewed Here in Columbus Day Talk

Two philosophies of life are striving for mastery of the human race—the Communistic theory, utterly materialistic in its tenets, with the present Russian government as its outstanding proponent, and the Christian philosophy which has been the heritage of Europe and America for many long centuries—Rev. Francis Flaherty, missionary in China for many years, told men of St. Mary Catholic church in a talk Sunday morning in Moira hall.

Men of the congregation joined for observance of Holy Name Sunday yesterday and also in celebration of Columbus day, sponsored by Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, and attended the 7:30 o'clock mass, receiving Holy Communion in a body. Rev. Flaherty's address was given at a breakfast served in Moira hall following the mass. Charles Gallaher, grand knight of Marion council, presided as master of ceremonies.

Rev. Flaherty, who is a cousin of the pastor, Rev. W. J. Spickerman, recently returned from China where he served as a missionary at Huangling, Hunan provience. His home is in Cincinnati and at present he is stationed at Holy Cross monastery at Mt. Adams.

A Vital Struggle

Telling his audience that at this very moment civil war is raging in China over the issue—in political alterminology called a struggle between democracy and talarltarianism or capitalism and communism—and voicing a prayer that it would never come to pass, he expressed the opinion that "should there be a third war, it will be under the banner of the Christian way of life vesus this pagan philosophy that the two camps will muster."

Relating incidents in his experience of 20 years as a missionary to illustrate what is to be done to win China to Christianity and Democracy, he said China is weighing the relative merits of the two philosophies prevailing in the world today—Communism and Democracy, with Soviet Russia rightly considered the champion o fthe first, and American the leader of the second.

Emphasizing that keeping America Christian is of far more importance and fundamental that any distinction between Republican and Democrat and pointing out that Christianity and communism cannot exist side by side in the same country without bitter mutual opposition, he added: "This makes the Catholic church the ally of Americ ainsofar as our beloved country remains true to her Christian heritage in principles and political actions. The church is not interested in forms of government; but as the custodian of man's salvation, she is interested in the philosophies that rule governments."

Situation in China

He told of the progress being made by the Catholic church in China and gave his audience a picture of China's struggle with Japan and what is being done by the Catholic church in common with other organizations interested in alleviating the miseries of the people.

Briefs talks were given by Henry A. Krigbaum, president of the Holy Name society and Joseph Dunn, iimmediate past grand knight of the council.

BUCYRUS TO STUDY RECENT FIRE LOSSES

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 14—In an effort to determine why Bucyrus has suffered so many heavy fire losses during the last two years, a group of industrial and business men are scheduled to meet with city council and other city officials tonight.

Purpose of the meeting is to survey the city's fire fighting needs and to determine if additional equipment is needed, or what other changes in the fire fighting system may be necessary.

The meeting has been called by Harold Smith, president of the Smith Tool and Engineering Co. who asked officials to attend.

The Mader block $100,000 fire last Thursday was the fourth total loss in the city since 1944. Others were the Newberry, the Morris Stores and the Home Lumber Co.

Two Girls Who Fled Delaware School Caught

Two girls who had escaped from the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware, were picked up by the state highway patrol Sunday and returned to the school.

The girls were Wilma D. Felver, 15, and Bertha L. Cool, 16, the patrol reported. The girls were picked up on route 42 near Mt. Gilead while riding with two truck drivers, the patrol stated.

RETIRED TEACHER OF GALION FOUND DEAD

Funeral Rites Monday for Miss Grace Weston.

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 14 — Funeral services for Miss Grace Weston, 75, retired Galion High school teacher, who was found dead at her apartment, 129½ Harding Way East, Saturday at 8:30 a. m. were held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Volk funeral home. Rev. Norman Riedesel of First Presbyterian church where Miss Weston was an active member, officiated. The body was shipped today to Auburn, N. Y., for burial in the family lot in Fort Hill cemetery.

For nearly 40 years, Miss Weston taught in the Galion high school. She began her work in the Galion school in 1899, serving as instructor of mathematics, and for a number of years before her retirement in 1938, she was assistant principal of the high school. Since her retirement, and at the time of her death, she was on the staff of substitute teachers.

She was born Oct. 14, 1870, at Montezuma, N. Y., and would have been 76 years old Monday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Weston. The family came to Galion from Auburn, N. Y., during the 'eighties, when Mr. Weston became a locomotive engineer for the Erie railroad.

The only surviving relatives are several cousins in the east, and Roger Godfrey of Galion, a distant cousing.

Miss Weston graduated from Galion High school in 1889, and from Oberlin College in 1896. Before coming to the Galion schools as a teacher, she taught in Shelby for three years. She had traveled extensively, and was active in organizations of the Presbyterian church including Grace Guild which was named for her. She was a member of the Research literary club, the Business and Professional Women's club, the Scholarship Fund committee of the Federation of Women's clubs, and honorary advisor of the Girl Reserves.

Miss Weston had been in failing health since she fell last May when leaving the home of a friend. She was found Saturday morning by her pastor's wife when Mrs. Riedesel went to the apartment on an errand. Death had occurred some time early Friday evening, it is believed, because she was found sitting on the davenport where she had been reading some correspondence. Her family physician said that she had been suffering with heart attacks and believed that was the cause of death.

KENTON GIVEN AID FOR SEWER SYSTEM PROJECT

Grant Also Made to Alger for School Addition.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 14—According to an announcement from Washington Saturday, Kenton has been advanced $4,100 to finance plans for a $91,000 sewer system extension and repair project.

The city council has had the first reading of a resolution which if finally enacted will authorize the drawing of plans for a new sewage disposal plant.

A grant also was made to the village of Alger of $1,100 for plans for a $124,000 school district addition.

Hospital at Kenton Joins Lima Council

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 14 — Representatives of nine hospitals in the Lima area, including Kenton, met in Lima Thursday and organized a hospital council for the hospitals in that area.

Purpose of the council is to assist each hospital in its mutual problems with others in the area and in their relations with other agencies.

The proposed name of the group is "The Lima Ares Hospital Council." Those attending the meeting from Kenton were Sisters Margaret Regina and Justina of the Antonio hospital.

RETAILERS TO MEET HERE WEDNESDAY

OPA Official To Conduct Session at Central High.

Operators of furniture, apparel, shoe and department stores in the Marion trading area are to meet to discuss OPA regulations affecting those businesses at the Junior High school, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. Local and area advertising merchants are invited to present their problems at that time.

Similar meetings are believed a major factor in the record recently established by this section of the country for a low number of price violations in the men's and women's apparel field. The session will be one of a series held in this area by the Cincinnati district OPA office, according to J. Thomas Otto, district price executive, who will conduct the meeting. Samuel Phillips, head of the consumer goods section, and A. C. Busemeyer, price specialist, will attend to discuss pertinent regulations with local merchants.

Representation from Marion, Knox, Morrow, Delaware, and Union Counties is expected at the meeting.

Self-Service Laundry Set

New Business To Be Opened Here Within Next Ten Days.

An automatic, self-service laundry, first of its kind in this area, will be opened at 142 South Prospect street by W. K. Luse within the next 10 days.

The establishment will feature coin-operated Westinghouse "laundro-mats," which are said by Mr. Luse to wash nine pounds of clothing during a half-hour operation.

A customer may use as many of the machines at the same time as desired. Only labor operation required is insertion of the clothing in the machines. The washing cycle requires half an hour and the washed clothes are damp-dry when the operation is completed. It is not necessary to watch the machines and lounges and a children's playroom have been provided for customers, Mr. Luse said.

A 25-cent charge is made for each machine's half-hour service.

Soap, bluing and other cleaning materials are to be provided.

The building to be occupied has been undergoing remodeling for the last two months. Work was done by Baldauf Construction Co. and Reliable Plumbing Co. The premises were formerly occupied by Ward-Stilson Co.

Mangles and dryers are expected to be installed within 60 days, according to Mr. Luse. The process, he said, has been developed since the war. The Westinghouse Co. set up the first such establishment at Mansfield, where it now maintains a test station, and other automatic laundries have been installed in Cleveland and other cities.

2 Hurt in $64,000 Springfield Blaze

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 14—Two firemen were injured and loss estimated at $64,000 was caused when flames swept a three-story brick building at 66-68 W. Main street, in the business section, early today.

The Diehl Hardware Company and the City Grill occupied the first floor; the D. S. Smith Cabinet Shop, the second and third floors.

An explosion of paint caused a wall to fall on fireman Fred Getz, injuring him seriously. Fireman Hugh Garrity was hurt slightly by falling debris in the same explosion.

Fire Chief Grover L. Frock, who estimated the loss, said he thought the fire originated in the kitchen of the City Grill.

Truman Declares No A-Bombs Have Left U. S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—President Truman declared today there are no atomic bombs outside of the United States.

Eben Ayers, assistant White House press secretary asserting he was speaking "on the authority of the President," told a news conference:

"The only atomic bombs ever outside of the United States were those used in the Bikini test and those dropped on Japan."

Ayers made his comment in reply to what he said was an inquiry about a radio broadcast last night by Drew Pearson.

He said the broadcast reported that there are atomic bombs outside this country, and added: "That is untrue."

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Officers of the Junior Red Cross elected Saturday afternoon at a meeting in the Red Cross office include Marilyn Fields, president; Sally Runyan, vice president; Virginia Mason, secretary, and Betty Plantz, treasurer. It was announced that more gift boxes for children overseas will be available for filling after Christmas. Marilyn Fields, delegate from here to the national Junior Red Cross convention in Philadelphia in June, gave a report of that meeting. The next meeting of the council will be at 10 a. m. Nov. 9.

The first three U. S. patent examiners were Thomas Jefferson, Henry Knox and Edmund Randolph.

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—Television came out of its second conference spreading the word that things were going to hum. At least that was the prevailing atmosphere in the active two days under the guidance of the television broadcasters' association.

One situation making this clearer than anything was the fact that actual post-war equipment for home and transmitting station was on display and ready for sale, with most manufacturers promising that previously delayed production would be generally under way before Christmas. A few others cited upwards of 2,000 receivers already sold in the New York area.

Another was that network operation also was on the move, while tests with micro-wave radio relay methods are continuing, the immediate consideration is the coaxial cable, laid underground and now operating between Washington and New York.

It is the hope to have the cable extended to Pittsburgh in 1947 and probably Cleveland.

Northern Ohioans Prepare For Lion Hunt—Come 1st Snowfall

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14—Down around North Royalton, where Cuyahoga borders on Summit and Medina counties, the folks have their shooting irons oiled and ready, and are waiting for the winter's first snowfall.

When that snow comes, North Royalton Police Chief Clayton H. Akins promises, "you're going to see the dog-gondest lion hunt since pioneer days."

For months reports have been rampant that a mountain lion was on the loose in that territory, and over the weekend it was seen again, at close range, by a recently-returned ex-Marine near Bennett's Corners, just over the line in Medina county.

The tawny, cat-like beast with the long twitchy tail (everyone agrees the animal is three or four feet long, about 30 inches tall, long-tailed and brownish) disappeared in the brush before the ex-Marine, 19-year-old Tom Chappelle who spent two years in China, could run home and get his rifle.

Now they've organized a lion hunt and are waiting on the snowfall. Chief Akins said his posse of veterans but empty-handed lion-hunting deputies would lead the way.

While they're seeking the highly-advertised mountain lion, the hunters will keep an eye out for a couple of coyotes which escaped about a year ago after being brought here from the west as souvenir pups. The coyotes are credited with killing hundreds of chickens.

The Bennett's Corners wild life menagerie has been reduced by one, and that's for sure. Elton Wilkinson, finding slain chickens every morning, borrowed a couple of large traps from neighbor Curtis Cady, wired them to a sapling and set them in front of a hole in the chicken fence. The next morning one of the traps was gone.

Three weeks later Cady, while working in the field, was attracted by a commotion of crows. He investigated and saw a great horned owl in a tree, fight off the crows. He ran home for his shotgun, brought down the big bird with a single shot—and on its foot was the missing trap.

Republican Women's Federation Elects

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14—Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown of Dayton today was reelected to her seventh term as president of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's organizations.

Mrs. Florence Morris of Toledo was renamed first vice president. Others named vice presidents included: Mrs. Richard Aubrey Jr. of Youngstown; Mrs. Elizabeth Linard of Bellaire, Mrs. Lottie Randolph of New Lexington, Mrs. Dorothy Wickersham of Akron and Mrs. Helen Wood of Norwalk.

Mrs. Gladys P. Gordon of Cleveland was chosen secretary and Mrs. Harriet Brightwell of Portsmouth, corresponding secretary.

IN HEALTH OFFICE

Miss Clarabelle Mercer of 278 South High street has been employed as stenographer and typist in the Marion county health department, according to an announcement today by Dr. N. Stritt, county health commissioner. She replaces Miss Martha Logan of near Marion, who resigned to accept another position.

Scrap Shortage Seen as Long as OPA Lives

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14—So long as present OPA policy prevails the scrap situation is expected to become worse before it improves, the magazine Steel said today.

The trade publication reported that in addition emphasis now placed on foundry iron for housing materials is reflected in a smaller output of basic iron for steelmaking and at the same time there is a generally increasing shortage of metallurgical coke.

"All this is restricting production and in absence of any relief, not now foreseen, will shorten it further," Steel said.

JUVENILE OFFENDERS GET NEW WARNING

Pre-Halloween Edict Issued After 3 Arrests.

A second warning to pre-Halloween pranksters was issued today by juvenile court authorities after three 12-year-old boys were charged by police Saturday with letting air out of automobile tires.

The boys were released to the custody of their parents after being reprimanded by the court and their hearing is set for Saturday morning before Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast. They are charged with letting the air out of tires of several automobiles parked on Wilson avenue and adjoining streets.

A first warning against pre-Halloween pranks was issued by police and juvenile court officials last week after four youths were charged with vandalism at the Silver Street school. The boys tore down basketball standards in the school yard, police said. They spent several days in the county detention home and were released last Friday after each paid his share of the damage. Total damage was estimated at $25.

AKRON-CANTON AIR FIELD CALLED VITAL

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 14—The military importance of the new Akron-Canton airport in the event of another war was stressed yesterday at dedication ceremonies by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay deputy chief of the Army Air Staff for research and development.

General LeMay, under whose command the Hiroshima atomic bomb was dropped, declared "if there is another war, we believe it will begin with a long-range plane dropping an atom bomb on the industrial heart of America."

He reached this conclusion, he explained, because military history showed that "twice America has been the bulwark against aggression. Next time an attacker will know that to win he must knock out the United States first.

"Our defense will require a strong force ready to strike at the moment it is first needed: No longer will we have time to build an army after hostilities are started."

He declared the only defense against atomic bombs was to bomb and destroy plants and experimental laboratories producing the bombs, and stressed the value of the Akron-Canton airport by citing it was only 3,015 nautical miles from London, 3,440 from Berlin, 3,510 from Finland, and 3,600 from Leningrad.

Yanks Perplexed on How To Treat Germans

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN, Oct. 14—Some soldiers in the American army of occupation say they are perplexed.

They say that what they would like to know from President Truman, Secretary Byrnes and others in authority is:

"Are we now to be kind to the Germans? Are we to conclude that sentences in Nuernberg and other war crimes trials count for expiation of German war guilt and are we, maybe, to try to out-do the other occupying powers in being nice to the people we conquered?"

The questions were put by a combat veteran over coffee in a Red Cross Canteen today as he leafed through "Stars and Stripes," the army newspaper.

Mirrors Confusion

The soldier, a corporal, said that the content of today's paper pretty well mirrored his confusion.

"Now here," said the corporal, "on the front page is a story from Berlin about a German girl getting an exit permit to go to America to marry an American she met here. I don't know the people, but I know this—she's still an enemy alien and a national of the nation we fought until 17 months ago.

"And here on page four is a story telling about, I quote, 'the most comprehensive Christmas party plan for German children organized to date in the European theater' to be given by American personnel at Bremerhaven. It says that the party 'will make it possible for each of 15,751 German youths to receive a personal gift.' So we are playing Santa Claus to German kids.

"And on the sports page what do we see? It says soldiers and WACS get time off if they join the army youth program and teach German kids baseball, football and basketball. It says that in Berlin military government authorized an American-German ping-pong tournament and invited Germans to attend as fans in an American gymnasium. What, no beer and peanuts for the fans?

"And then we come to the 'B Bag' (the letters to the editor column in which soldiers air their grips). Here's a letter from a lieutenant in Austria who seems to be as confused as I am. Let me read it to you:

"Innocent Victims"

"Our leaders try to impress on us that the Germans and Austrians as a whole are innocent victims of a few madmen, they had nothing against us and they are our friends now. They suffer from mal-nutrition and lack of homes and lack of clothes, etc.:

"'Can it be that our leaders have so forgotten the atrocities against humanity they have committed—Poland, Lidice, gas cells, murder, rape, pillage, systematic annihilation?

Are those just words out of a story book, or did our mouths pop open when we heard them a few years back? Did our leaders forget the huge piles of human bones and rotting bodies of people whose crime was that of having another religion, or speaking another tongue, or refusing to hell?

"'Are we supposed to forget so soon the many orientation lectures and films which prepared us for the European theater?'"

Said the corporal: "Well, that's the end of the letter. Now, you tell me, what's the score. Next time a 'Kraut' trails me for a block waiting for me to throw away my cigaret butt, do I kick him in the teeth in memory of my buddies who died on the Western Front, or do I hand him the rest of my pack of cigarettes?"

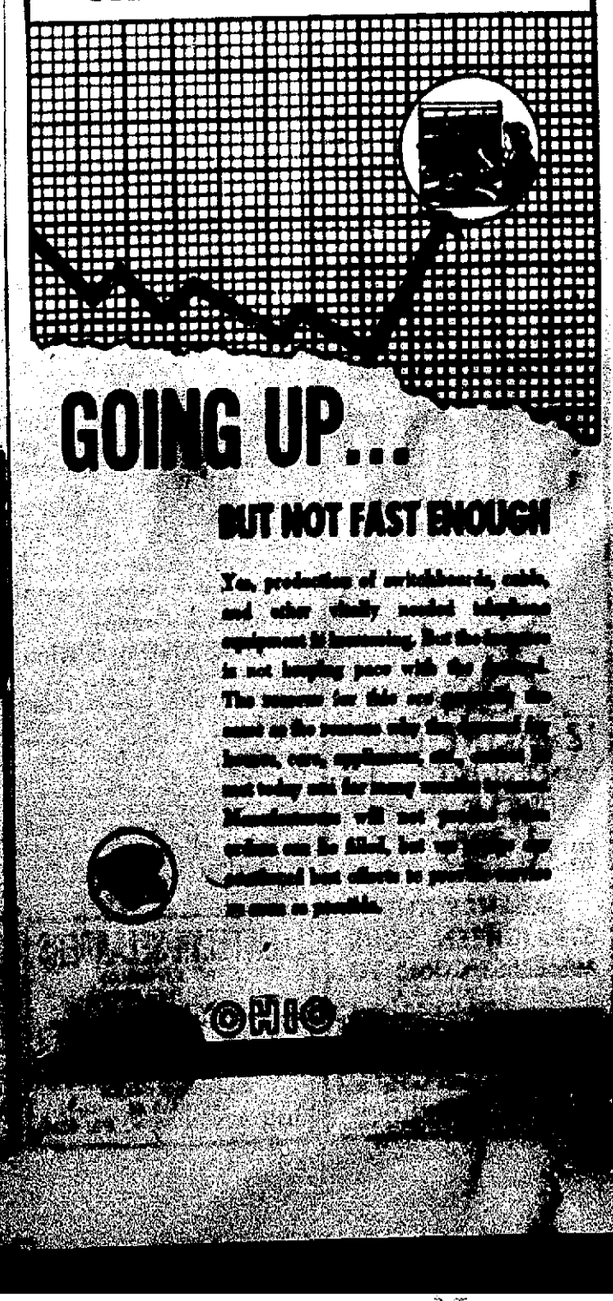
NEW PRODUCTION



GOING UP...
BUT NOT FAST ENOUGH
Yes, production of switchboards, cable, and other vitally needed telephone equipment is increasing, but the demand is not keeping pace with the growth. The reasons for this are complex as the reasons why the price of homes, cars, appliances, etc., are high and today and for many months ahead Telephone will get only part of the orders we file, but we will do our utmost to get telephone service as soon as possible.

PUBLIC SALE
Wednesday, Oct. 16
COMMENCING AT 1:00 O'CLOCK SHARP
As I am going strictly into the registered Guernsey business I will sell the following high grade livestock at Public auction at my farm located 2½ miles southeast of Radnor or seven miles northwest of Delaware east of 203 on the Radnor and Troy township line road.
20 HEAD OF CATTLE 20
One Jersey cow, seven years old, will freshen Oct. 15th. One brindle cow, six years old, will freshen Oct. 20th. One Jersey heifer, three years old, coming with second calf about Oct. 17th. One Jersey and Guernsey cow six years old; one brindle cow, six years old; one brindle, eight years old, one jersey and Guernsey heifer, 2½ years old, all giving good flow of milk.
One Brown Swiss heifer will freshen in March, also, 11 yearling heifers that are due to be bred in December. One bull calf, six months old, eligible to register.
These cows have all been TB tested, Bangs tested and Mastitis free. The heifers have all been vaccinated for Bangs.
This is one of the good herds in Radnor Township. This herd has been bred by a registered Guernsey bull from the W. W. McKitrick and Son herd. All cows are high producers. You are cordially invited to inspect any of them before the sale.

Skillful Car Inspection
...Is Pocketbook Protection
Thorough car inspection is an important part of our expert lubrication service. Our men are trained to watch for causes of trouble. For instance, an acid eaten battery cable, detected and replaced, may save much inconvenience and possibly a towing bill. Tires too, are often a clue to faulty alignment or wheel balance. Careful inspection is your best protection against trouble that grows more expensive. We invite you to drive in for a check-up.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"SAM gave me something for you," I told my father, and put into his hands the small, compact envelope which Helena, under duress had brought to her husband, and which he had turned over to me.

My father took it, and scrutinized it on both sides. Then I told him what Sam had said.

"This is the key to the whole thing," he said musingly. "And Helena had it in her possession!"

He turned the enveloped over and looked searchingly at the reverse side. "The seals do not appear disturbed," he said.

"I do not think Helena has tampered with it," I said. "She would not hesitate to open anything addressed to anyone outside her family, but, she is so loyal to Sam, I would wager much she never has meddled with it."

"I am inclined to agree with you," he said. "And that belief mightily relieves my mind."

He put the envelope into his breast pocket, and smiled at me, saying, "This goes with me, and I also am taking in our car the suitcase and the letters which Marion was guarding so valiantly at the Underwood home. I wonder what mess Marion's quixotic conscience will get her into next?"

Not Hopeful

"Perhaps she's cured," I said, but was conscious that my tone was not very hopeful. My father put his hand on my shoulder.

"Don't worry about it," he advised. "Just remember that for the next few days everybody will be under martial law. Marion is safe at the farmhouse with her parents, and will stay there until it is safe for her and Carolyn to go back to Weirhampton."

I wanted to ask him how long that would be, but knew better than to put the question. And then my father had slipped his hand to my elbow, and was escorting me to the door.

"If you'll get your things now, and then go down to Helena's room and wait there, I will send Gus for you," he said. "Tell Mrs. Holland to remain with you until you all join me in the room below stairs. Good-bye for now."

Expected Unpleasantness

I hurried back to his room, donned my hat and coat, picked up my suitcase and bag, and, closing the spring lock behind me, went more slowly down the corridor to the room which held Helena and Carolyn Brixton. I expected unpleasantness, and I received it as soon as I went into the room.

"What does this mean?" Helena demanded insolently. "What new annoyance have you thought up for me, and what have you done with that package Sam gave you"

"You can be sure that I am not here of my own volition, Helena," I said. "My father told me I was to come down here and wait. As to the package, I have no instructions to tell you anything."

Sprang Out of Chair

"Why—you—you!" she shrilled, and sprang out of her chair, her fingers working like talons. But swiftly, effortlessly, Mrs. Holland was at her side, and deftly pinioning her arms, put her back into her chair again.

"Don't try anything like that again," she warned in soft tones that yet held a click of steel. Then she turned to me, as Helena sullenly subsided, although her eyes still held a venomous glare at me.

"I see you have wraps on," Mrs. Holland said. "Shall I see to the wraps and luggage of Mrs. Brixton and her daughter?"

"Yes, at once, please." I told her, "Gus will call for us shortly. My father said to tell you that you would not need to take the journey with us, but that he wishes you to remain with your charges until he joins us in the room below. He is going out in the car with us."

WINS F. F. A. HONORS

KENTON—Ralph Lee, a member of the Mt. Victory High school F. F. A., surpassed the high qualifications for a litter of merit by 16.5 pounds with his litter of nine registered Duroc pigs. The nine pigs weighed a total of 286.5 pounds at the end of the required 56 days. The goal for a litter of merit at 56 days is only 270 pounds. The heaviest pig weighed 36 pounds and the lightest 28 pounds.

The Cape of Good Hope still retains an early title, given it by mariners: "Tavern of the Seas."
